

CURRENT COMMENT
By
Chester H. Rowell

FIFTY-ONE hours and twelve minutes in the air, the record of aviators Chamberlin and Aosta, at Minneola flying field, means much more than a sporting test of endurance. It means that there are no more unflyable gaps on the earth's surface. It is at least physically possible for man to fly from anywhere to anywhere, at any time, at any place. At the moderate cruising speed of eighty miles an hour, this record is 4096 miles in the air, without landing or refueling. That is practically the exact distance from New York to Constantinople, or from San Francisco to Yokohama. No flying machine will ever have to go so far without stopping. It makes the proposed flight from New York to Paris within easy reach, with plenty of margin, if we consider nothing but the endurance of machine and drivers.

OF COURSE in practice many other things do have to be considered, and regular commercial transatlantic flights are not yet in sight. But whatever is physically possible becomes in time practically feasible.

Across the Atlantic at its narrowest crossings in less than half this distance—from Newfoundland to Ireland, 1780; and from Cape St. Roque in South America to Cape Palmas in Africa, 1600 miles. This means an easy trip from New York to London, by way of Newfoundland and Ireland, in a day and a half, and across the Pacific from Victoria to Japan, with one stop at an Aleutian Island station, in two days.

WITH the American transcontinental air service now practically complete and the European service operating from London to Moscow, that means around the world in eight days plus the time of the Siberian Express from Moscow to Vladivostok, which, on the present slow schedule, is eleven days, but could easily be made eight. This is from sixteen to twenty days in all. Within two years a trans-Asian service will be in operation which will make the distance around the world, by regular routes, twelve days. Relays of faster light planes, for military purposes, could make it much quicker. We shall see the time when we can win a prize for being the first one to go around the world in a week—once the express distance from New York to Boston. The world shrinks.

TO ARMS! Let the loud, toxic call! Raise the shriek of protest at the skies! Here is another man of drinking "canned heat." President Coolidge should call Congress in extra session at once to pass a law forbidding the use of wood alcohol or other injurious substances in these industrial products. In fact, there should be a law to compel manufacturers of canned heat, paint and varnish to use nothing but good drinkable alcohol, preferably of the Haig & Haig, Old Gordon, or other approved brands, in their products. Don't they know that some people drink varnish? Therefore, they should make it drinkable, even if it so increases the cost as to prevent its use for any other purpose. Better leave our furniture permanently unvarnished, and do without the convenience of canned heat, than poison the drinkers of these products. Let the slogan of the next campaign be, "We demand drinkable paint!"

IT WON'T do to carry logic too far. Here is J. E. Rogers of New York, director of national physical education service, predicting at Des Moines that the men of the future will have spindly legs, pot bellies, toothless mouths, and no chins, while the women will be too narrow-hipped to bear children. He means at least not its own contradiction. Other physical directors, more encouraging than Mr. Rogers, have observed that the present generation is an inch taller than its parents. Carry that forward, and it would take only thirty generations, or a thousand years, to add thirty inches. The men of 2927 would all be eight feet tall. Or, carrying it backwards, the contemporaries of Charlemagne should have been pygmies, three feet tall, while those of Julius Caesar's time were Lilliputians, six inches high. We should have to go only back to Socrates for the race to disappear entirely into nothingness. Don't be too logical.

BOSTON is keeping up the good work of reintroducing the joint discussion into American politics. It is to be United States Senator George Norris, of Nebraska, next, who will debate the primary law with State Senator Bacon of Massachusetts. The debate may not elucidate the subject as profoundly as highbrow books, full of facts and statistics, but it will advertise it much better. And it is one more step toward making politics interesting. If debates in Congress no longer discuss anything, let us have them elsewhere.

MANILA, P. I., April 19.—All Luzon and the island of Formosa were rocked by the severest earthquake in 10 years, just after midnight. Buildings were cracked in Manila and elsewhere, and serious damage resulted in northern Luzon around the summer capital at Baguio.

Many Orientals Rush Back Into Flames to Get Belongings and Are Lost

(By United Press)
OAKLAND, April 19.—Three Chinese were burned to death and 15 were reported missing in a fire of undetermined origin in the local Chinese settlement today.

Bodies of the three known victims were removed from the ruins of the burned building, a two-story lodging house, and police and firemen started hunting for others believed to have perished.

More than 50 men, women and children were dragged from the burning building. Many panicked Orientals rushed back into the flames to secure their belongings, some of them failing to emerge again.

Police said at least 100 persons were in the building when the fire was discovered. The old wooden structure, was entirely destroyed. Many of these rescued were severely burned and received treatment at the emergency hospital.

Police investigation revealed that the fire probably started from an oil stove in the room of Su Ho-Yuen, 70, one of the three dead whose bodies were recovered.

CHARLES CHAPLIN TO FIGHT DIVORCE

NEW YORK, April 19.—The divorce suit brought against Charles Chaplin by his wife, Lita Gray Chaplin, will be "aggressively contested," and the actor's California attorneys will see to it that the case is not lost by default, Nathan Burkman, counsel for Chaplin said today.

The statement followed the action of the court of appeals at Los Angeles, which yesterday denied Chaplin's petition for a writ of mandamus and required him to answer by Thursday or lose the suit by default.

Burkman said neither he nor Chaplin would go to California until the case was placed on the calendar.

To Begin Survey Of Water System

FRESNO, April 19.—Otis L. Cutler, appraisal engineer of the state railroad commission, will start a preliminary survey of the Fresno city water system late this week, according to announcement of the city commissioners today.

The purpose of the appraisal will be to add the city in determining whether to purchase the system from private interests or to own it or start condemnation proceedings.

A similar survey will be made in Visalia by Cutler.

ATTORNEY INDICTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—Frank Parsons, Vancouver lawyer, indicted last night by the federal grand jury for conspiracy to distribute liquor in the United States, was to appear for preliminary hearing this morning before U. S. Commissioner Krull.

Indicted with Parsons were 55 other persons, including Joe Parente, Joe Ferris and J. W. Ward, all of whom are well known characters to San Francisco prohibition officials. Parsons was released from jail yesterday on $30,000 bail.

The general charge against Parsons and the others was that they had conspired to ship $1,000,000 worth of liquor into the United States by shipping it to Tahiti, then rerouting it to Pacific coast points in the United States.

Mistrial To Be Asked By Ford Lawyer

(By United Press)
FEDERAL COURT ROOM, Detroit, Mich., April 19.—Attorneys for Henry Ford announced in open court today they would move Thursday for a mistrial in Aaron Sapiro's libel suit against the automobile millionaire.

Ground for the move is understood to be alleged prejudice of a woman juror. It is known one of the women members of the jury was brought before Judge Fred M. Raymond late yesterday and questioned.

Trial of the case was continued today until Thursday because of illness of Senator James Reed, chief counsel for Ford.

Notice of the motion for mistrial was given by Stewart Hanley, associated with Reed. The judge refused to discuss the nature of the charges, but they are understood to have concerned an alleged statement of prejudice against Henry Ford, the defendant.

The woman is said to have made a categorical denial.

ANAHEIM MAN FATALLY HURT IN AUTO CRASH

William J. Lamers Dies on Way to Hospital After Collision

William J. Lamers, 65, of 604 South Palm street, Anaheim, was fatally injured and his nephew, Theodore Lamers, of 405 South Lemon street, Anaheim, received serious cuts when the truck in which the two men were riding collided head on with a county truck on Raymond avenue, Fullerton, this morning.

The injured men were rushed to the Fullerton General hospital, but the elder Mr. Lamers died before reaching the hospital. The body was taken to the McAuley and Suters parlors, pending an inquest.

Defective steering apparatus on the Lamers' truck was responsible for the accident, according to a report to the Fullerton police. Theodore Lamers, who was driving, made an effort to avoid the collision when the wheels turned suddenly but was not successful.

William Lamers fell from the seat as the machines crashed and struck his head on the pavement, his skull being fractured.

The county truck was operated by Arthur R. Geren, of 147 West Ash street, Fullerton. The county machine was being driven south on Raymond and the Lamers' machine north at the time of the accident.

The deceased leaves a widow, four sons and five daughters.

Traffic Captain Given Suspension On Water Measure

EL CENTRO, April 19.—The suspension of Frank Oswald, captain of the Imperial county traffic squad, has been confirmed by the board of supervisors and Oswald will not resume active duties until May 10.

Oswald was suspended by Walter Greer, district inspector of the department of motor vehicles, following charges that he had been too lenient with traffic violators and had destroyed traffic tickets.

Oswald asked for a hearing which was granted yesterday, at which time the suspension was confirmed.

President Favors More Farm Loans

WASHINGTON, April 19.—President Coolidge is planning to amplify resources of the federal farm loan board to increase its facilities for granting loans to intermediate credit banks and farm cooperative re-organizations, the White House announced today.

While no general organization of the board is contemplated, the president will shortly make three new appointments to the board and hopes an arrangement can be entered which will assure increased service for farmers.

NATIONALIST COMMANDER IS EXPECTED TO PROCLAIM NEW CHINA GOVERNMENT

General Chiang Kai Shek Is Reported to Have Broken With Communists

(By United Press)
SHANGHAI, April 19.—Marshal Chiang Kai Shek has been dismissed as commander-in-chief of the Chinese Nationalist army and the Nationalist government at Hankow has ordered an immediate advance against Chiang at Nanking, a dispatch from Hankow said today.

Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang, the so-called "Christian general," was appointed to succeed Chiang, the dispatch said, and General Twang Sen-Chi was appointed second in command.

(By United Press)
LONDON, April 19.—Marshal Chiang Kai Shek, leader of the moderates within the Chinese Nationalist party, is expected to proclaim an independent Nationalist government in China with headquarters at Nanking, an admiralty communique said today.

The text of the admiralty communique was as follows:

It is reported that Chiang Kai Shek has definitely broken with the Communist party and with the Hankow Nationalists and will proclaim an independent government with a capital at Nanking.

"The execution of wealthy Chinese at Changshai continues," the communique said, "and large numbers of wealthy Chinese are leaving Hankow."

"Japanese troops have landed field guns at their Changshai concession. The Roman Catholic mission at Hanchow has been looted by members of the peasants' union."

Shanghai moderate Nationalists, followers of General Chiang Kai Shek, were reported to have been instructed from Nanking to prepare to celebrate establishment of the new government.

ANOTHER NOTE TO CHINESE INTIMATE

PARIS, April 19.—The foreign office indicated today that the powers had decided to address another note to Eugene Chen, Chinese Nationalist foreign minister at Hankow, demanding satisfaction for last month's Nanking disorders in stronger terms than were employed in the first note. It was suggested that the note might be in the nature of an ultimatum.

NO CHANGE IN AMERICAN POLICY, SAYS COOLIDGE
WASHINGTON, April 19.—There were further indications today that the U. S. government is holding out against foreign pressure for stronger joint action in China in retaliation for the Nanking outrages.

In answer to questions regarding this government's attitude toward the "unsatisfactory" reply of Foreign Minister Chen to identical demands of the powers, President Coolidge authorized the statement that there is no change in American policy, namely, to protect American citizens and where necessary to remove them from danger.

The White House spokesman did not discuss directly the Chen note, nor the negotiations of the powers regarding an answer to it.

Deadlock Reached On Water Measure

SACRAMENTO, April 19.—Deadlocked in the senate committee by a vote of 5 to 5, the Crittenden constitutional amendment proposing a new state water rights doctrine, of beneficial use and state ownership of flood water, failed to get on the floor of the upper house today.

Among the important measures adopted by the senate were bills making Armistice day a local school holiday, appropriating $50,000 for survey of works on Santa Ana river for flood control, creating the bay side reclamation district in San Diego county and extending the absent voters act to persons in civil and congressional service of the U. S. government and to sick and disabled persons absent from precincts.

WILL ROGERS' JAIL LOSES ITS SCREEN SHEIK INMATE

(By United Press)
BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., April 19.—John Gilbert, famous as the hero of a hundred screen conquests, but more recently noted as the "bad boy of Beverly Hills," completely recovered from a bad case of "hallucinations" today and the city jail lost a distinguished guest.

None other than Douglas Fairbanks and S. M. Spaulding, members of the board of trustees, went to their fellow citizen's rescue, it is understood, and obtained a suspension of the 10-day sentence

AMERICANS ARE LEAVING CHINA BY THOUSANDS

Scribe Tells How Capture Of Shanghai Affected Social Life

Editor's Note: Lincoln Quarberg, former United Press staff correspondent, has just returned to the United States from the Orient. Quarberg was in Shanghai when southern troops captured the city and in the following story tells how the capture affected foreigners there, particularly in the social life of Shanghai.

BY LINCOLN QUARBERG
Written for United Press
SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—Americans are leaving war-torn China by the thousands. All trans-Pacific liners, outbound for Chinese ports, are carrying American refugees.

Most of the American exodus is composed of missionaries. Approximately 3000 of the 8000 missionaries in China already have been ordered home.

The rest of the homecoming procession is made up of tourists, business men and professional entertainers from Shanghai.

The latter are almost as numerous as the clergy. Upwards of 5000 American men and women were engaged in the business of making Shanghai the gayest city in the far east.

At least 50 American jazz bands were automatically dispersed when the Chinese occupied Shanghai. Most of the musicians were drawn into the ranks of the Shanghai defense force. Hundreds of American cabaret girls lost their jobs at the same time when the international settlement went under military rule, with a 10 p. m. curfew. Many of these young women are stranded, unable to purchase their passage home.

Shanghai Armed Camp
Shanghai, an Oriental Paris less than a month ago, became an armed camp overnight. The city's brilliant night life section was transformed into a dismal fortress, with armed soldiers guarding all gateways. In the Whangpo river, Shanghai's inner harbor, more than 100 men-of-war, principally British and American, had and still have their guns leveled on the city.

The Carlton night club, one of the favorite resorts of tourists and other foreigners, was one of the first places closed by the military, with several vagrant bullets whistled into it.

Fifty Russian girls in the Palais De Dance, adjoining the Carlton, fled in flimsy evening dress when, among the important measures adopted by the senate were bills making Armistice day a local school holiday, appropriating $50,000 for survey of works on Santa Ana river for flood control, creating the bay side reclamation district in San Diego county and extending the absent voters act to persons in civil and congressional service of the U. S. government and to sick and disabled persons absent from precincts.

State Parks Bond Issue
The $6,000,000 bond issue for purchase of sites for public state parks, proposed by Senator Arthur H. Breed, of Piedmont, adopted by the senate.

The $1,000,000 bond issue for 1932 Olympic games in Southern California, by Senator Charles W. Lyon, Los Angeles, adopted by the assembly.

The Colorado river commission, proposed by Assemblyman Myron D. Witter, of Brawley, would represent the state in Colorado river negotiations, with traveling expenses and per diem pay. Assemblyman Harry F. Sewell, of Whittier, opposed the measure, and declared the commission would be "to disseminate propaganda for re-election of Senator Hiram W. Johnson."

Among the important measures adopted by the senate were bills making Armistice day a local school holiday, appropriating $50,000 for survey of works on Santa Ana river for flood control, creating the bay side reclamation district in San Diego county and extending the absent voters act to persons in civil and congressional service of the U. S. government and to sick and disabled persons absent from precincts.

Coolidge Lauds Herbert Hoover

WASHINGTON, April 19.—President Coolidge definitely set at rest today rumors that Secretary of Commerce Hoover might resign from the cabinet following the supposed "rebuke" that the White House spokesman recently made.

Mr. Coolidge praised Hoover's work and declared he was qualified for any position in the cabinet which he might choose to accept.

LUTHERAN CONFERENCE

FRESNO, April 19.—With delegates from all parts of northern California present, the Lutheran conference of the Missouri synod was held here today at the Emmanuel Lutheran church.

Relief Money Appealed For By Red Cross

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, April 19.—A national appeal for funds to aid Mississippi river flood sufferers was issued by the American Red Cross today on receipt of reports that fully 25,000 persons are homeless in the flood zone.

No limit was set on the amount needed and national headquarters of the Red Cross gave an initial contribution of $25,000.

Governors of Missouri, Arkansas and Mississippi issued proclamations saying all monies contributed to relief should be addressed to the Red Cross.

Meantime, the weather bureau forecast new flood crest levels for tonight or tomorrow, with no definite drop in sight before the end of the week.

The Red Cross said the 25,000 homeless need food and shelter "for an indefinite period." The situation is past the point where local Red Cross chapters can meet it with emergency relief.

"The national organization realizes the need for relief work is rapidly exceeding the capacity of its smaller chapters and will handle it as a major disaster," a Red Cross statement said.

A Mississippi river stage of 35 feet is expected at St. Louis within 24 hours. Previous high water records at Arkansas City, Ark., and Greenville, Miss., were smashed yesterday. The rise previously forecast in the Mississippi below Cairo, Ill., will be augmented by rains throughout the great central valleys.

EXPECT RIVER TO START TO REcede TOMORROW
ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 19.—Despite more rain last night over Missouri, the Mississippi river was expected to reach a stand here today and start receding tomorrow, halting further flood damage in the upper part of the valley.

Below Cairo, Ill., in the lower section of the river, however, the menace will continue. Already some 20,000 persons have been driven from their homes and property damage is estimated at thousands of dollars.

The stage is expected to reach 35 feet here.

The Osage and other minor rivers in Missouri and Southern Illinois continued to rise, but the principal feeders, the Missouri and Ohio, were abating.

STORMS AND HIGH WATER TAKE 5 LIVES IN TEXAS
DALLAS, Tex., April 19.—Storms and high water in the last 12 hours in Texas have taken a toll of at least five dead and a large property damage, according to reports to the United Press today.

Probably 25 persons have been injured and one of these may die.

AWAIT BREAK IN GOVERNMENT LEVEE
NEW MADRID, Mo., April 19.—The government levee which stands alone between the Mississippi river and hundreds of square miles in the St. Francis river basin of eastern Arkansas continued to hold here this afternoon but a break was considered inevitable.

The levee cannot withstand the 45-foot stage predicted for this week, according to F. L. Hunter, mayor of New Madrid.

A smaller levee which joins the government levee east of here has already broken and is mending. It has been abandoned. Every effort is being expended on the larger levee which so far has held firm.

"We are all right now, but every man in Missouri couldn't save us if the river reaches a stage of 46

COURTROOM BATTLE FEATURE OF TRIAL

FRESNO, April 19.—Trial of the $104,000 damage suit of C. H. Alexander against J. C. and Anita Walling continued here today with spectators attracted by a fist fight between two prominent persons interested in the case.

The bout, between W. E. Travis, president of the California Transit company, and M. G. Gallagher, local attorney, ended in a draw, according to witnesses said.

The suit involves the sale of stock in the Valley Transit company. Alexander claims he had an opportunity to sell his stock for $210 a share, but the Wallings refused to release it from escrow and he finally was forced to sell for $155.38 a share. He is seeking the difference in the court action.

SCHOOLHOUSE IS WRECKED BY TWISTER

Score of Students Thought To Be Pinned Underneath Wreckage After Storm INSTRUCTOR IS KILLED

(By United Press)
CARROLLTON, Ill., April 19.—A cyclone late today wrecked the Centerville school near here and a score of pupils are believed pinned underneath the debris.

Miss Ella Kelly, instructor, was instantly killed.

Late reports said only four of the 25 students had been accounted for and that three of them were in a serious condition.

TWO STUDENTS ARE KILLED AT CHESTNUT
CHESTNUT, Ill., April 19.—Two pupils of the Chestnut community school were instantly killed when the school was demolished by a tornado this afternoon.

Calls for doctors have been dispatched from Elkhardt, Chestnut and Williamson. The extent of the damage in those places is unknown.

TWO KNOWN DEAD IN TEXAS TWISTER
PARIS, Tex., April 19.—The casualty list of the twister which struck Arthur City, 15 miles north, increased to two known dead today as reports came here from across the state line in Oklahoma.

Frank Williams, 18, was killed just across the Red River in the path of the cyclone. Robert Craven was killed at Arthur City.

OKLAHOMA TOWNS ARE BELIEVED RAVAGED
HUGO, Okla., April 19.—Southern Choctaw county, in Oklahoma, was believed ravaged by a cyclone early today that swept in from north Texas districts across the Red river south of here.

In reports from communications confirmed Paris, Texas, reporters indicated that further word may bring stories of additional destruction and possible loss of other lives.

Reports here said many Arthur City, Texas, buildings were demolished by the storm.

The known Oklahoma death—that of Frank Williams—occurred at Fort Towson, Okla., about 20 miles directly east of here.

In the interurban section, between here and Fort Towson, it was feared heavy damage had been sustained.

REPORT ANOTHER TORNADO AT FORT SMITH
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 19.—Efforts to establish telephone communication with Fort Smith were unavailing this afternoon, following the report another tornado had struck the city.

CITY MANAGER
ACT FOR S. A.

The measure introduced into the legislature by Assemblyman C. D. Ball, providing opportunity for the voters of Santa Ana to install a city manager if they choose, and increasing the maximum city tax rate from $1 to $1.25 per $100 of assessed valuation, was passed by the senate yesterday, according to word received here.

The bill, which is expected to go to the governor this week for his signature, makes provision that the voters can vote on a city manager plan, and that if the proposal carries, a city manager can be employed by the city trustees upon a four-fifths vote of that body. While a four-fifths vote of the council is necessary to hire a manager, only three-fifths majority is necessary for the manager's removal.

The bill makes possible an increase of the tax rate upon unanimous vote of the city trustees.

AMERICANS ARE
BY THOUSANDS

the night preceding the occupation, shot killed through the foreign settlement.

Among the first American girls to quit Shanghai were Barrie Cole and Rena Shade, wives, respectively, of Dave and Billy Shade, well known pugilists. Both were members of the "Carlton Night Revue" and witnessed some of the fighting.

"We saw the fighting from the roof of our hotel, the Palace," one of the girls said. "It was a terrible sight. We saw captured soldiers pinned by their necks on bayonets; some had their heads chopped off with big swords and the sight of bodies strung up on trees and telephone poles was ghastly."

"Some of the girls in our troupe were so frightened they left most of their belongings behind when we decided it was getting too hot for us in the French concession, and fled. It still is not safe to be on the streets at night, except in the international settlement, which is well protected by British and American soldiers. We heard reports of girls who were waylaid and attacked by Chinese soldiers."

There were many reports that the invading armies would attack the foreign settlement itself and these rumors kept the defense forces on the alert.

During the height of this uncertainty, this correspondent was in the ballroom of the Astor house, famed hostelry in the center of the international settlement. Every one appeared gay, if nervous. The musicians, all Americans, were in uniform.

Suddenly a messenger appeared and the orchestra members hurriedly laid aside the instruments, picked up their rifles and dashed out to help put down some disturbances at the gates.

Within five minutes an improvised Filipino orchestra had replaced the American jazz band and the dancing went on.

The foreign populace, under a surface pretense of unconcern, was in a panicky state. Chinese, fed by propaganda of hatred, were about to take advantage of all foreigners who ventured in the streets at night.

Numerous cases of gang attacks were reported, and still are.

American victims of Chinese ruffians included Ben Cohen, jeweler of Spokane, Wn., who was lured into the native quarter, beaten and robbed. Frank Crampton, silk exporter of Santa Monica, Calif., had a similar experience.

Both left China on the first boat.

The foreign settlement of Shanghai itself continues well protected, and probably is the safest spot in China at the present. But it is overrun with refugees from other parts of the Orient, most of whom are leaving as fast as they can. Those who remain are doing so to protect property interests, or because they lack funds to pay for their passage home.

FACES PRISON TERM
FOR CARRYING GUN

If A. Gonzales, former Anaheim Mexican, is sentenced as scheduled next Friday, he will be the first person to be sent to prison from Orange county for carrying a concealed weapon, it was said today.

It will be the first time, according to court records, that the law passed several years ago which made it a felony for aliens or ex-convicts to carry concealed weapons has been invoked here. The same law provides that no probation can be granted in such cases, so that Gonzales, who has pleaded guilty to the charge, seems destined for San Quentin. The penalty is said to be a term of from one to five years.

When he pleaded guilty yesterday he asked for delay in receiving his sentence. Judge E. J. Marks thereupon set the time for pronouncing judgment at next Friday at 9:30 a. m.

Gonzales, a resident of Los Angeles, came to visit his sister at Anaheim when he was arrested, a black-jack being found upon him. He has a wife and several children. He protested to officers that he had no intention of using the weapon and didn't know it was against the law to carry it.

Court Notes

To Settle Claim

Permission to settle a damage claim against W. C. Hoefler, on behalf of his little son, Richard Kirkhart, 3, was sought today by H. C. Kirkhart, of Santa Ana, who filed a petition in superior court. The child was injured March 17 in an accident on Grand avenue, near Santa Clara avenue, Santa Ana. Hoefler, it is said, has agreed to compromise the claim for $334.11.

Information Is Filed

An information charging B. L. McKinney with passing a fraudulent check for $10 to Clinton A. Griggs, in Anaheim, on April 2, was filed late yesterday in Superior Judge E. J. Marks' court. McKinney's arraignment on the charge was set for next Friday, at 9:30 a. m.

Seeks Separate Maintenance

Mrs. Helen A. Wilcox, of Fullerton, was a bride of two weeks when her husband, Warren Wilcox, deserted her, she claims. She has filed suit in superior court for separate maintenance, alleging that her health is so frail that she cannot work and support herself. She asks that Wilcox be ordered to pay her $50 per month. Attorney William L. Waters represents Mrs. Wilcox. The plaintiff and defendant were married in Santa Ana last February 21 and separated March 6.

SIX KILLED WHEN
TRAIN IS DERAILED

WINNIPEG, Man., April 19.—Canadian National freight train was derailed 56 miles west of Horne, Ont., today and six men were killed.

Engineer Pecky died in the Horne Payne hospital from scalds; Fireman Gourley was pinned under the overturned engine and died before help could reach him, and four other victims were not identified.

The train was made up of cattle cars.

Bandit's Career Ended by Bullet

LOS ANGELES, April 19.—The short-lived bandit career of C. W. Arnold, former Beverly Hills lumber yard employee, was at an end here today.

While officers of the First State Bank of Sherman sought onlookers who picked up part of the $2000 loot Arnold dropped in his hasty departure from the bank, late yesterday, authorities prepared to conduct an inquest into the young bandit's death.

Arnold was shot down by officers who cornered him in the home of Henry Blinder, a short time after he had held up the Sherman bank and escaped in a hail of bullets.

"feet," said Hunter. Water poured over the small levee this afternoon for a distance of half a mile, threatening to wipe it out completely.

The point at which water gushed through was six miles from the city.

A complete washout of the secondary levee was expected momentarily. This would flood Milburn, Mo., and lowlands south of there in Eastern Arkansas for more than 100 miles as far south as Crittenden county.

Actor's Death to Be Investigated

LOS ANGELES, April 19.—Ray Raymond, well known stage comedian, died suddenly here today under mysterious circumstances that caused authorities to launch an immediate investigation.

Raymond, husband of Dorothy stage star, died in the Queen of the Angels hospital early today. It was learned that the coroner's office nor police were officially notified of his death.

Following rumors that Raymond was a murder or suicide victim, both police and county authorities began separate investigations.

AVIATOR IS KILLED

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 19.—Second Lt. E. D. Rainey Jr., of Kelly field, was killed today when his plane fell six miles from the field. He was graduated in the last class at Brooks field. His home was in Beaufort, S. C.

Police News

Charles A. Brown, alias W. J. Brooks, 50, was lodged in the county jail yesterday by Constable Bartley of El Modena. He was charged with being drunk and is said to have had five cans of "canned heat" on his person at the time of arrest.

Eight hand painted handkerchiefs were stolen yesterday from the Oldfield store, 306 North Main street according to a report filed with the city police. Police were given a description of several persons who visited the store yesterday.

Charged with being drunk and disturbing the peace, Francisco Ybarra, 32, a woman, was arrested by Officers Perry, Dean and Adams, at 11 o'clock last night. She lives at 1502 West Second street.

D. E. Taggart, 424 North Los Angeles street, Anaheim, reported the theft of his machine from an Anaheim street last night.

ASK FUND FOR OPPOSING P. E.
RATE INCREASE

Request for an appropriation of $500, contingent upon equal appropriations by Riverside and San Bernardino counties, was made of the Orange county supervisors today, in the interests of a fight to prevent a raise of railroad freight and passenger rates in the three counties.

A. N. Stanley, secretary-manager of the Orange county farm bureau, asked for the appropriation, which is wanted by the state farm bureau to finance a survey of Pacific Electric railway rates and business, in conjunction with engineers of the state railroad commission.

The Pacific Electric, said Stanley, is asking for higher rates in Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties, on the ground that it is losing money under present rates. The railway company is providing a fund of $20,000 to pay for the survey by engineers of the railroad commission and the farm bureau, which will oppose the rate increase, has been offered opportunity to keep a check upon the survey as it proceeds.

The expense, said Stanley, would be $1500, which it is proposed shall be paid by the three counties interested. The farm bureau maintains a regular department for public utility cases, Stanley said, but the Pacific Electric survey would entail additional help.

The farm bureau, he said, does not believe that the Pacific Electric company is losing money on its business in this county. The board was told that the loss is thought to be connected with lines from the beach resorts to Los Angeles, which city is opposing rate increases on such lines because it would discourage travel into the metropolis.

Hill Threatened
To Kill Senator
Before Suicide

SACRAMENTO, April 19.—A second murder, that of Senator Charles W. Lyon, of Los Angeles, was narrowly averted last Thursday when Harry J. Hill, Los Angeles politician, shot and killed Miss Marybelle Wallace and then killed himself, Senator Lyon told a coroner's jury here last night.

"Harry had threatened to kill Belle many, many times," said Lyon. "We never took him seriously, though, and during the last year Mrs. Lyon and myself effected a reconciliation between the two at least a dozen times. Only recently I learned that the day before the tragedy he had threatened to kill me, too. He probably would have, if he had met me."

The jury returned a verdict that Miss Wallace died as the result of gunshot wounds inflicted by Hill and that Hill died from a self-inflicted gun wound.

Colorado Bank Is
Robbed of $10,000

LITTLETON, Colo., April 19.—Three bandits held up the First National bank here today and escaped with $10,000 in currency, according to police.

A federal bank examiner was working on the books of the institution when the two bandits entered. A companion remained outside in a large motor car. No customers were in the bank and the robbers forced the employees and the examiner to lie on the floor.

WHAT COUNCIL DID

PURINTON WILL REMAIN MAYOR FOR NEW TERM

F. L. Purinton today continued in his position as president of the city council, having been re-elected at the reorganization meeting of the city council last night.

When J. L. McBride, of the first ward; W. G. Knox, of the third, and W. J. Kelly, of the fourth, took their seats last night, three men stepped down and retired to private life.

In point of service, George McPhee was the oldest member of the body. He served four years in his last term, and in a previous membership on the council he served for eight years. He was the police commissioner.

Charles H. Chapman had represented the third ward continuously for eight years. He was the water and sewer commissioner and during his administration many improvements were made in the two systems, the joint outfall sewer and the enlarged city system being among the improvements. Chapman is chairman of the joint outfall council, and election of a successor will be necessary.

E. B. Collier was an appointee to the council, filling a vacancy created by the death of Claude L. Killen, of the first ward. He was the fire commissioner. During his incumbency the fire stations in the east and west sections of the city were built.

Lauds Retiring Members
Speaking to the retiring members, Mayor Purinton paid them tribute for the faithful service they had rendered and expressed his appreciation of the co-operation they had given him.

"I know that each of you have conducted the business of Santa Ana in a fair and unbiased manner and have given a great deal of time and study to the affairs of the city," Purinton said. "You have given much more study and time than the average citizen realizes, I believe."

"While no doubt we have all had a certain amount of criticism, some of which, probably, was justified, as we have made mistakes, but I feel that a great deal of the criticism has been unjustified. It is generally the case. The criticism has come from those who are not as familiar with the various city problems as is the one who is in closest contact with them."

"I am sure no one can appreciate more fully than I the great loss that the city will have by the departure from the board of trustees of George McPhee, Charles Chapman and E. B. Collier. You have served the city for a long time, and you have served it well. You have met many city problems face to face, and you have solved them upon your judgment and not that of others, as sometimes is the case with issues that may cause criticism."

Will Welcome Advice
"There is one thought I wish you men to carry with you, and I know you will, and that is that while you are retiring from the board of trustees you still are important factors in the welfare of the city of Santa Ana. You have had the experience. You know the problems, and with the incoming board your advice will be welcome at all times."

Horace Fine Makes Address
Speaking at the request of the mayor, Horace Fine, of The Register staff, added his commendations to those of the presiding officer.

"In my weekly attendance at conferences and regular meetings of the council, it has been my observation that the retiring members have been sincere and honest in their discussion and solution of problems confronting the board," Fine said. "There has been from those not familiar with details of the issues, criticism and charges that certain acts of the board have been influenced by outside parties. It is a common thing to hear such criticisms. I know that personal convictions has determined the position of every member on every issue claiming their attention during their administration. The best interests of the city at large always has controlled in deliberation of a resolution declaring the election of the officers receiving the highest votes at the election. McPhee's second to the motion was his last official action."

In clearing its calendar for final adjournment, the old board awarded T. W. Oglesby the contract for paving Washington avenue from Logan street to Washington avenue, his bid being $118,116, and by making an appropriation of $200 for a feature display at the California valencia show at Anaheim.

Jones Not to Go Abroad This Year

NEW YORK, April 19.—Bobby Jones will not defend his British Open championship title next summer, he said on his arrival here for a brief visit from Atlanta. Jones, with arms full of law books instead of brassies and niblicks, is busy studying and he had little to say about his plans.

New Trustees Planning To Keep Busy

Indicating their willingness to get into the "harness" at the earliest date possible and acquaint themselves with city affairs, members of the new city council last night voted to hold an adjourned meeting at 4 p. m., Monday, and to meet again at 7 o'clock.

Usually afternoon sessions are only informal conferences, but it was decided that the board should be in official session Monday afternoon so as to be in position to act on any matter requiring immediate attention.

VOTE RECOUNT DEMANDED BY GEORGE M'PHEE

A court count of the ballots cast in the city election April 11 for councilman candidates in the fourth ward will be demanded by George McPhee, who lost to W. J. Kelly by four votes in the semi-official returns and by nine votes by official returns.

This fact became known last night, when Attorney A. W. Rutan, representing McPhee, informed the council that the election of Kelly would be contested. The announcement was made immediately following the checking of official totals by the council, and in which an error of five votes in favor of Kelly was discovered.

The attorney stated that the contest would not be based on fraud, but on the allegation that errors had been made in the official checking of the ballots.

The error of five votes was made by election officials in the thirteenth precinct in transcribing figures from the official to the semi-official return sheet.

In the contest Kelly and McPhee will have to bear whatever expense they incur, as the city is in no way involved in the costs. Rutan did not intimate when the suit contesting the count will be filed. When the matter is taken into the courts, the judge will appoint tellers to recount the ballots cast for the two men.

Notice of intention to contest the election of Kelly came as a surprise to councilmen and others, in view of an emphatic declaration by McPhee the day following the election that he would not challenge Kelly's election and that he would be glad to be relieved of the burdens imposed on a member of the city governing body.

A few minor errors were found in the semi-official returns, but results were not effected. W. G. Knox lost two votes in the third ward. In the fourth ward the yes and no votes on the proposition of increasing the pay of councilmen, were reversed with the result that the no vote made a gain of 60 in precinct 11. Frank By made a gain of 100 votes. C. E. Jackson lost three in the sixth, J. A. Gardner gained one in the seventh, G. E. Schriver's vote was reduced by one in the eighth and F. H. Taylor took a similar loss in the ninth. George Dunton's big vote was increased by six in the Costa-Mesa-Paularino precinct and Charles A. Andres lost three in the eleventh.

ANAHEIM PAINTER SUED FOR DIVORCE

Lyle R. Barnes, Anaheim painter, was a careless man, his wife maintains. He would go away early in the morning without making provision for his family's support that day, and would not return until late at night, she says. The story was all hers.

Mrs. Eunice Barnes, the wife, has filed suit in superior court for divorce, charging cruelty and non-support. Her husband, she says, "The worry was all hers. In the house didn't worry him, she intimates. He merely went out, so his wife wouldn't be disturbed in her efforts to solve the puzzle of feeding the family."

Mrs. Barnes, also, was afraid her husband was going to shoot a neighbor, a woman who occupied the other side of the duplex in which they lived. According to Mrs. Barnes, her husband told her one night that he was going away for a few days and that she should warn the neighbor that if she was there when he returned he would "pepper her full of holes" with his revolver.

Mrs. Barnes was out during the evening, after her husband's departure. When she came home she noticed him skulking about the rear yard and feared that he was "gunning" for the neighbor. She was so frightened that she dared not turn off the lights and retire, but remained up all night, she said.

On March 5 Barnes left home, his wife states. She says she does not know his whereabouts. In her divorce complaint she asks custody of their three children and $50 per month alimony.

LUXEMBOURGER IS APPOINTED AS FIRE CHIEF

Following reorganization of the new city council last night, John Luxembourger was reappointed chief of the fire department, and Clyde Jenkins was renamed as city engineer. Appointment of heads of other departments were deferred to the next meeting, at request of the new commissioner for each department.

Mayor Purinton announced assignment of commissionerships as follows: Stanley Goode, garage, street, lights and parks; J. L. McBride, water, sewer and sanitary; W. G. Knox, fire, plumbing, building and electrical inspectors, and W. J. Kelly, police and public buildings.

The present heads of all departments filed applications for reappointment. In addition, George L. Bates, of Orange, former city engineer, filed an application for appointment as city engineer, and S. V. Hammer, 1015 Spurgeon street, filed for appointment as building inspector.

Applications for janitor and poundmaster were submitted by H. F. Hershey (incumbent), John Pugh, J. W. Morris and Allen H. McClure.

By assignment by the mayor, McBride took the seat at the council table vacated by Charles Chapman; Kelly the chair vacated by McPhee and Knox the location of Collier.

The first official action of the new board was consideration of an announcement of the chamber of commerce excursion to Boulder dam on Saturday of this week. Owing to the fact that the board is to meet next Monday afternoon and evening, no member of the board will join the excursion.

Permission was given the Robertson Electric company to erect an electric sign for a shop suey restaurant at 1055 West Fourth street.

Applications were received from F. S. Cuthbert for appointment as head of the battery department at the new city garage and by E. C. Collins, 611 South Broadway, for appointment as foreman of the new garage.

E. F. Whiting, landscape gardener, announced to the board that property owners along North Bark boulevard had arranged to plant flowers in the center parking on that thoroughfare, and requested that the city supply the water free. The request was taken under advisement for one week.

City Attorney C. D. Swanner was requested to investigate the status of proceedings for the opening of Sycamore street, from Washington to Fifteenth, and report two weeks later.

Permission was given A. E. Shoemaker to cut into the oil macadam on Sixth street for installation of a sewer line for the new laundry at the corner of Sixth and Porter streets.

JOHN REUTER IS MADE PENN AGENT

D., for 22 years, Reuter came to Santa Ana last December to establish a permanent home, and recently accepted the connection with the insurance company when it was proffered him. He has had insurance agent experience in connection with his banking operations.

Reuter and his family are residing at 501 East Pine street, in property acquired through an exchange with C. K. Quisel, a former resident of this city.

Announcement Party Reveals Plans for Summer Wedding

An engagement announcement which came at Easter and will be of keen interest to hosts of friends, was that of Miss Mary Geyer and Theodore Gilbank, revealed to a group of close friends Saturday afternoon, at a pretty party given by Mrs. E. W. Smith, 1104 French street.

Mrs. Smith planned a pink and lavender effect in her decorations, using many lovely flowers in variations of the two tones. A program of amusing games had been planned, and the hours until tea time. Then the dainty refreshment menu was served at small tables gay with flowers. Just before coffee was served, a graceful Easter lily was put at each place, and secreted in the petals of each, was an envelope containing the betrothal news.

Miss Geyer was deluged with good wishes and friendly questions, and admitted that hers was to be a midsummer wedding with August as the bridal month.

The bride-elect has been teaching since completing her college work at University of California at Los Angeles, and is now connected with the Arcadia schools. Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gilbank, attended Pomona college, then went east for a year at Harvard Law school, and in June will graduate from the law school of the University of Southern California.

The close friends to whom the secret of their betrothal was revealed, included in addition to the hostess, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Fluke Smith, Miss Lily Farley, Mrs. J. C. Gilbank, Mrs. W. D. Baker, Mrs. Marian Hickman, Mrs. W. Dale Pickering, Miss Carolyn Finley, Mrs. F. S. Stockbrand, Mrs. L. E. Gardiner, Mrs. James E. Coulson, Santa Ana; Mrs. Willard, Inglewood; Mrs. Calvin C. Lambert, Mrs. Worth Alexander, Mrs. J. Leighton Bascom, Tustin; Mrs. Ransler J. Baker, Irvine; Mrs. Robin L. Hadley, Long Beach; Mrs. J. G. Ross, Mrs. Floyd Geyer, Miss Lucille Geyer, Los Angeles, and Miss Mignon Oldfield, Garden Grove.

Little People Enjoy Annual Party

Little children in the neighborhood of Miss Mary Lockhart's "Save You" grocery at 618 West Second street, are very happy youngsters indeed in the friendship of such a person as Miss Lockhart, and feel themselves honored above the boys and girls of other neighborhoods, who do not have such a pal. Especially do they realize this when they enjoy one of the parties that is planned for them as an annual affair, such as that of last Saturday afternoon, when they had an Easter party.

Understanding is the keynote of Miss Lockhart's friendship with children, and this understanding was apparent in all the plans for Saturday's party. The little folk—seventy-eight for the whole afternoon, with others coming later for the very end, romped and enjoyed their games on the grassy lawn surrounding the little home grocery.

Their playmate-hostess grouped them together long enough to have their pictures taken by a photographer, and then the play resumed. As the afternoon drew to a close, she invited them into the house, where a large table held a cunning wee house whose occupants were bunnies, chickens and the animals children so dearly love. Other little animals romped over the table among the countless gay little baskets filled with candy Easter eggs, which were distributed as favors to each child.

The children declare that Easter with its annual party, is fully as happy a time as Christmas.

Egyptian Seeress Will Foretell Future for Spring Marketers

Do you want to know what the future holds for you?

Are you anxiously wondering whether success will attend your efforts in the project that lies so near your heart? Are you wondering as to what your future will reveal in the way of matrimony, business, journeys or wealth?

Mrs. E. M. Nealley and her finance committee of Ebell society, have laid plans to offer Egyptian seeress as one of the features of the Ebell Spring Market and Flower Show, to be held in the clubhouse Thursday and Friday, and will introduce Madame Loyah noted social entertainer and diviner of the future, to answer these and other questions.

Madame Loyah, in mysterious Egyptian costume, employs the famous Tarot cards of the Land of the Pharaohs in divining the future and is said to have an uncanny power of foretelling events to come, and of relating events in the past lives of her patrons, that seemingly no human power could disclose.

Final arrangements for offering the unusual attraction were made yesterday when Madame Loyah herself conferred with the finance committee members, Mrs. Nealley, Mrs. N. A. Beals, Mrs. Leonard G. Swales, Mrs. A. G. Flagg and Mrs. F. E. Coulter.

This will be but one of the countless attractions awaiting the public Thursday, when the two-day event will open. The floral display at previous semi-annual events, (for the flower show has been both a spring and an autumn feature) has always been amazingly beautiful and with the remarkable abundance of bloom and the perfection of individual blossoms which the late winter rains vouchsafed Orange county, the display of flowers this spring, promises to excel in point of mass, variety, color and perfection, any previous offering.

Nor will flowers be the sole attraction. There will be everything that fertile minds can conceive, to attract the attention and interest of the public. Housewives will find a most beguiling array of utilitarian aprons, towels, bed-linens and other articles to re-stock their shelves; dreamy-eyed girls will be able to select the loveliest of linens for their "glory-boxes"; thrifty matrons may secure richly shirred fruits to re-stock the larder shelves until such time as late spring may bring the apricots and cherries of a new season.

Gardeners, amateur and otherwise, may secure new bulbs, vines, seeds, plants, anything to beautify their gardens; homemakers, eager to add a new and novel touch of beauty to library or drawingroom, may find exactly the wanted thing among the arts and crafts of fancy work displays; wide-eyed children will be fascinated by dolls and toys, sweetmeats and cookies.

And both Thursday and Friday nights will offer formal entertainment in addition to that to be derived from glowing color and beauty, shifting crowds and fascinating booths. For on Thursday night, all the latest modes in garden party frocks and gowns for more formal wear will be shown in a Fashion Revue to be offered by the Rankin Drygoods company, and on Friday night, the young people who have been taking dancing lessons under Miss MacAdam of the MacAdam School of Dancing, will present a delightful program, aided by Long Beach and Los Angeles pupils.

A feature of the flower show announced today will be the "Sport Bouquet Shoppe" in which may be found a great variety of felt flowers for sale. This booth will be under the direction of Mrs. Phillip Hatzfeld.

Mrs. J. E. Paul, also stated today that all members planning to enter bouquets in the section where a prize will be presented, the owner having the largest variety of flowers must vouch for the fact that the flowers were grown in their own gardens.

All bouquets to be entered in any competitive section must be at the clubhouse tomorrow morning by 9:30 o'clock.

Easter Party Proves Birthday Affair

Master Chester Roberts, small son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Forrest Roberts, 1237 South Shelton street, was a very excited little boy indeed last Saturday afternoon, when an Easter party in which he was keenly interested, proved to be a birthday party in honor of his own fifth birthday which had occurred a day or two previously.

Mrs. Roberts, assisted by Mrs. H. J. Roberts, small Chester's devoted grandmother, had planned a very pretty party indeed for the little lad, using Easter bunnies, chickens and eggs, and flowers of royal purple. The happy child guests romped on the lawn and also enjoyed indoor games in which Marilyn Plavan, Bobby Krepps, Anna Mae Stice and Chester himself, took prizes.

An interesting feature of the afternoon was when the children were grouped for kodak pictures which will be mementoes of the day, but the climax of enjoyment was reached at the refreshment hour, when way was led to the screened porch and the beautiful table waiting there. Wisteria, orchid sweet peas and purple verbena were used as a centerpiece and were surrounded by Easter bunnies, bright colored eggs and pretty candles.

Each child had favors of Easter eggs, cunning cards of candy drawn by little chickens, and snap motes which contained caps and wee toys. Ice cream and birthday cake were served.

Chester received many pretty gifts from his playmates who were Billy Guiley, Jackie Greene, Jack

Seventeenth Birthday Happily Celebrated By Classmates

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Crawford, entertained at a very pretty party at their home, 329 West Nineteenth street last Saturday evening in honor of their daughter Hazel, who on that day celebrated her seventeenth birthday.

Miss Hazel had invited her teacher, Mrs. Hugh Miller and the members of the Delta Gamma Theta of the First Presbyterian Sunday school, to an Easter party at her home, not letting them know that it was her birthday, but she wanted to surprise them. But somehow the girls became suspicious and went as far as to look up her name in the school directory. When they found it they were surprised, they planned a complete surprise in turn.

The evening was spent with games and music. Several guessing games and puzzles that required real brain work were solved by Corrine Nelson, Elva Simmons, Marjorie Pollock, and Margaret Mercereau, who were awarded prizes.

A touching feature of the evening came when gavottes were lapsed for an interval, and the young girls fashioned a beautiful floral piece as an Easter memorial to Miss Lois McClellan, an active class member who was called from their circle last December.

When refreshment time came, Mrs. Crawford told the girls that Hazel had a surprise for them and brought in the birthday cake with its seventeen gleaming candles. Somehow the girls could not act at all surprised, and just then Mrs. Miller stepped in from another room with an armful of packages which were showered on the birthday celebrant.

After the real-thing what had happened, she opened her packages, which contained beautiful and useful gifts by which she can remember her friends for many years.

Refreshments were served by the Misses Elena Mercereau and Ruth Crawford, and were carried out in pink and white, corresponding with the decorations in the home.

Class members invited were Mrs. Hugh Miller, leader, the Misses Marjorie Pollock, Florence Pollock, Lavinia Compton, Velda Fraser, Margaret Mercereau, Mary Ford, Elva Simmons, Eleanor Redmond, Corrine Nelson, Eleanor Metzgar, Eleanor Randall, Gretchen Black, and Janice Black. Special guests were the Misses Orpha Coulson, Luella Chapman, Elena Mercereau, and Ruth Crawford.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Girls' Friendly

Mrs. J. A. Riddell of Los Angeles, diocesan president of the Girls' Friendly society, was an honored guest last night at the meeting of the local society in the home of Mrs. W. L. H. Benton, president.

Mrs. Riddell outlined the program for the remainder of this year in an interesting talk in which she particularly stressed the sending of one or two girls to the summer camp, Camp Johnson, which will be situated at Del Mar.

A short business meeting was held when it was decided to vote $25 towards the fund for the extension secretary's salary and $10 towards the general diocesan fund. A report from the committee in charge of the cooked food sale showed that the sale had been a success.

It was announced that Miss Janet Briggs and Miss Louise Stephenson would entertain members and associates of the Girls' Friendly society Monday night, April 25, at the home of Miss Briggs, 644 North Broadway.

Refreshments were served by Miss Mabel Robertson and Miss Eleanor Reinert.

Those to enjoy the evening included Mrs. Riddell, Mrs. Benton, Mrs. C. S. Osborne, Mrs. G. L. Chapman, Mrs. A. H. T. St. Ann's Altar

St. Ann's Altar society was hostess last night at a very successful and pleasant Easter Monday card party in the church hall, which was beautifully decorated in pink and white, a profusion of delicate sweet peas being artistically arranged in baskets.

Five hundred was the diversion for the evening and at the close of the series of games, handsome prizes were awarded Mrs. Alice Halliday, Mrs. Nick Brock, James Alton and U. J. Engelman.

Cards were then laid aside and the tables arranged for the delectable collation of fruit salad, coffee and cake, served by the members of the committee.

James, Charles Dahline, Robert Krepps, Phyllis Jean Richards, Anna Mae Stice, Marilyn Plavan, Lucille Plavan, Gloria Pestolesi and Elaine Roberts. A group of mothers who also enjoyed Mrs. Roberts' hospitality and the pleasure of watching the children, was composed of Mesdames La Verne Guiley, Dewey Greene, Ernest Richards of Pasadena, Berry Stice, Clyde Plavan, August Pestolesi and Chester's grandmother, Mrs. H. J. Roberts.

Miss Flora Pritchett Weds John Bruns on Easter Morning

Successfully keeping the date of their wedding secret from all but their very nearest relatives and one or two friends, Miss Flora Pritchett, and John Bruns Jr., were married early in the morning of Easter day, and are now flying over the roads of northern California, enjoying a motor honeymoon far from the kindly-meaning attentions of their friends.

The wedding took place at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning at the parsonage home of the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The bride's blond charm found ideal setting in a gown of crepe de chine in two tones of blue, worn with smart little blue hat and gray shoes and hose. Her costume was completed by an arm cluster of sweet peas and maiden-hair fern.

Miss Helene Kubitz as maid of honor, wore rose crepe de chine with gold lace, and a corsage of sweet peas. Thomas Trythall assisted Mr. Bruns as best man.

Other guests witnessing the quiet ceremony were Sheriff and Mrs. Sam Jernigan, brother-in-law and sister of the bride; Mrs. Nora Bruns, mother of the groom, and also his brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bruns of Los Angeles.

After the little group had exchanged congratulations and good wishes, Mr. Bruns and his bride sped away on their honeymoon. Upon their return they will be with his mother on Buffalo street until they decide upon a permanent location.

Charm Class Enjoys Easter Breakfast

That group of younger business girls who have banded together as the Wrycende Maedenu club of the Y. W. C. A., assembled at St. Ann's Inn early Easter Sunday morning for a delightful breakfast which celebrated the conclusion of their extended study of "Charm."

The tables where the young people were seated, were exquisite applications of the Easter idea, and were brilliant with flowers and Easter symbols. At each place was a dainty pink rosbud favor. The girls took their seats after Miss Dorothy Thurston, Miss Blanche Yokum and Miss Gertrude Schiffer had sung a tuneful grace. The delectable courses of the breakfast were varied by violin music when Miss Helen McPeak played "Walther's Prize Song" from Wagner's "Der Meister-singer."

To complete the informal program and also the "Charm" series, the girls discussed "The Charm and Personality of Jesus," led by Miss Nancy Elder, Y. W. C. A. secretary.

The group enjoying the affair was composed of Mrs. G. R. Fisher, the Misses Mabel E. Pruitt, Dorothy Thurston, Mildred Calkins, Mary Wall, Louise Bryant, Anita Jerome, Daisy Anderson, Aletha McFadden, Dorothy G. Beckman, Myrtle Meacham, Ruth Stieh, Josephine Hoffman, Henrietta Lykke, Cynthia Kirven, Gertrude C. Schiffer, Hattie Belle Wall, Mildred Viera, Lina Dunn, Mary Melvina Frye, Helen Westering, Nancy Elder, Stella B. Graham, Amy L. Smith, Ilsa Schultz, Blanche Yokum, Pauline B. ## Your Kidneys Must Function Properly For You to be Well

LATE hours, rich foods and stimulating drinks are all hard on our kidneys. If their action becomes sluggish, they do not thoroughly cleanse the blood of poisonous wastes.

Such impurities may make one dull, tired and aching, with often a toxic backache, drowsy headaches and dizziness. A common symptom of imperfect kidney function is scanty or burning excretions.

Thousands have learned the virtue of Doan's Pills, stimulant diuretic in these conditions. 50,000 users have publicly recommended Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

50,000 Users Endorse Doan's:

Lambert W. Cox, Westover, Md., says: "Doan's Pills proved their value to me. My kidneys acted sluggishly and the secretions were scant and scalding. There was such a burning across my back that I couldn't bend or stoop. I was told to use Doan's Pills and that always be glad that I did. They put me in line shape."

LODGE ACTIVITIES

ODD FELLOWS' GRAND MASTER COMPLIMENTED

Complimenting C. A. Palmer, Olive, grand master of the grand lodge of California, was the entertainment held by local Odd Fellows Thursday in L.O.F. hall. The dinner also was in honor of Roy Bishop, grand marshal.

This was the grand master's final visit before the grand lodge session, which will be held in Sacramento in May. It was hoped by district officers that the meeting would aid in stirring up enthusiasm regarding the necessity for sending a large number of delegates to the grand session.

The lodge orchestra played a number of selections, after which a short intermission was given over to the regular business meeting.

The first number on the program was the singing of two songs by Herschel Clayton, who was accompanied at the piano by Harry Warner. Little Miss Jean Smith gave three readings, which included one entitled "Some Little Bug Will Get You." Elmer Thompson, baritone, presented two solos. He also was accompanied by Harry Warner.

Two readings, "Her Ride on the Electric Car" and "Getting a Boy Up in the Morning" were presented by Mrs. F. T. Porter. An interesting feature of the program was an Indian sketch, put on by a group of Odd Fellows, with Warner at the piano. The dance feature of the evening was given by an artist from a Santa Ana theater. He was accompanied by Larry Doyle. Eleanor Young Elliott gave two readings.

A talk on the ideals of Odd Fellowship by Palmer proved interesting to the 160 men gathered in the lodge rooms.

Following the talk the center of activities was transferred to the dining rooms, where refreshments were served. A vote of thanks was given George Peters, secretary of the local lodge, for it had been through his efforts that the program had been arranged.

'FRAT' AID UNION FORMS DRILL TEAM

The organization of a drill team to compete in contests at the district convention to be held in Comp-ton in May took up the best part of Friday night's business meeting of the Fraternal Aid union. The Santa Ana lodge is especially anxious to have a team at this convention, according to R. P. Mitchell, president, because of the fact that the convention president, J. Wylie Harris, is a member of this organization and this method has been chosen to honor him.

A social hour followed the business session at which time Mr. and Mrs. J. Wylie Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris served refreshments carrying out the Easter motif.

Jubilee Lodge Meets Saturday

Jubilee lodge, No. 604, F. and A. M., will meet Saturday afternoon, April 23, 3 o'clock, in order to confer the third degree upon four candidates. There will be a recess over the dinner hour after which the lodge will again convene at 7:30 o'clock. Special committees have been appointed to make arrangements for the session.

NARCOTIC THIEF TO SERVE SIXTY DAYS

Carl W. Crowley, Los Angeles, arrested yesterday morning a short time after he stole a medicine case from Dr. Dexter Ball's machine, near the Santa Ana Valley hospital removing from it the narcotic vials, was sentenced to serve 60 days in the county jail, when he was brought before Judge J. F. Talbott in police court yesterday afternoon. Crowley pleaded guilty to the charge and also admitted that he had stolen an automobile in Los Angeles yesterday morning. After admitting the car theft he asked that his sentence here be suspended so he could go to Los Angeles and face courts there for auto theft.

Judge Talbott told him he thought it would be better to remain in jail here for two months while officers there prepared their case against him.

Los Angeles authorities yesterday asked that Crowley be held for that city when his term expired here.

Crowley was arrested by officers Barnard and H. Hershey.

Would you like to go into business for yourself? Where you will not have to invest any money. All required is pleasing personality, a car, and a willingness to work. Call this evening at 2133 Greenleaf St., between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Cold-Water Tinting

(Copyright 1927)

There are lots of "prepared tints" for home tinting of your drabdy lingerie, but did you ever try dye-tinting with a real dye? You get glorious effects when you begin with the true tones that only real dyes can impart to fabrics! An envelope of the actual dye powder is only fifteen cents at any drug store. Sift a bit in cold water—dip the garment—and it's done. Only, you'll have a smooth, even tone just exactly like materials have when bought; none of that streaky look; never weak or "washy" no matter how much you dilute or lighten the color. Furthermore, you can "set" the tint if you want, by merely having the water boil.

Every drugstore has Diamond dyes, color cards and suggestions for exquisite tinting or regular, permanent dyeing of anything. Or, write for Color Craft—a marvelous book of ideas in full colors; free from DIAMOND DYES, Dept. N33, Burlington, Vermont.

'TOAST' MEN TO HEAR SPEECHES ON CANDIDATES

Speeches on a great variety of subjects, ranging from the China situation and the political outlook for the coming presidential campaign to oil booms and the gasoline war, made up the program of the Toastmasters club (new section) at the Y. M. C. A. last night. Guy Christian acted as toastmaster.

It was decided that the meeting of the club next week will be held on Tuesday evening instead of Monday, so that the members may be able to attend the Monday night meeting of the chamber of commerce.

Next week's program, which will thus be given on Tuesday evening, is to be devoted to political speeches, for which purpose the class will be transformed into a make-believe political convention. A. J. Rutter will act as chairman of the convention. J. D. Kelly will make the "keynote" speech, and there will be orations nominating candidates for president of the United States, from Coolidge, Lowden and Borah to McAdoo, Al Smith and James Reed. In addition to the political speeches, there will be a two-man debate on capital punishment in which some new features will be introduced.

The Wednesday night Toastmasters meeting (old section) this week will be a special one with a well balanced program dealing with current problems. Arrangements have been made for the accommodation of a number of visitors from Ontario, members of the Y. M. C. A. Toastmasters Club of that city.

Five new A.A.A. World's Records

DRIVING a completely equipped Commander model, four passenger enclosed Studebaker—absolutely stock throughout without even the bumpers removed—the same car and in the same way you would drive; using pure, undoped Richfield Gasoline and Richlube 100% pure Pennsylvania Motor Oil; Harry Hartz established five new world's records at Culver City Speedway, in what is credited as the greatest performance ever made by an automobile!

Starting Friday, April 1st, at 5:15 p. m. and concluding at 3:03 a. m., Tuesday, April 5th, the entire run was timed and supervised by the American Automobile Association who gave the total elapsed time as 81 hours, 48 minutes and 22 seconds—an average of 61.12 m. p. h. Hartz was relieved at intervals by Eddie Hearne, Louis Wilson and Ab Jenkins.

The wonderful stamina, the speed and endurance of this Studebaker, the superior quality of the gasoline and oil used, are evidenced by the fact that at the conclusion of the 5000 miles, several additional laps were made at 70 m. p. h. and that throughout this terrible test the only replacements or repairs were three grease cups, one spark plug and one punctured tire.

JUNIOR C. OF C. WILL ARRANGE FOR JOHNSON'S MEETING HERE

Senator to Make Address
Following Dinner at St.
Ann's Inn Next Tuesday

LIMA BEAN FLOUR INDUSTRY BACKED

Young Chamber Men Agree
To Sponsor Contest Here
To Select Queen for Fair

Directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, meeting yesterday voted to sponsor a county queen contest for the 1927 Orange county, co-operate with other Santa Ana organizations in pushing to a successful conclusion a program for parks and playgrounds, make arrangements for a speech in Santa Ana May 3 by Senator Hiram Johnson, take part in the excursion of Redwood boosters by sending a car to San Diego with the junketeers, encourage manufacture of bean bread by feasting it at the dinner before the regular meeting May 9, suggest ceremonies to be held when the first rock is dumped into the harbor entrance in July, and considered several other matters of lesser importance.

President Bob Fernandez said the County Republican Central committee had offered to the junior chamber the opportunity to make all arrangements for the speech here by the senior California senator, who will speak on the Boulder dam legislation. The dinner will be served at St. Ann's Inn. A short vaudeville program will precede the senator's speech. The directors voted to accept the invitation extended through Dr. R. A. Cushman, of the republican central committee, and a committee will proceed at once to make all arrangements for the event. In Southern California, the Boulder dam is no longer a political question, the directors felt, and the chamber would not be going beyond its function in accepting the invitation to have Senator Johnson speak here under the auspices of the commercial organization. His speech will be largely educational, it was said.

If the new lima bean flour is received favorably by the public, the demand for it will lead to the establishment of a new industry in the Southland and to encourage the eating of the new bread, the directors requested Mrs. Minnie Kettner to feature it on the meal May 9, and she agreed to do so.

The dumping of the first rock in the jetty at Newport Beach is of such importance to the entire county that it should be accompanied with a significant ceremony, the members of the board considered, and M. S. Robinson was named chairman of a committee to make the arrangements. It was suggested that representatives from all the cities in the county take part.

B. M. Northland was named chairman of a committee to extend courtesies to the Redwood excursion party who will be in Santa Ana Thursday. It was said that several cars also would be sent to San Diego by the senior division. Mr. Land, Paul Ragan, Ridley Smith and E. Merle Hunsong were named to represent the junior chamber on the trip to San Diego.

J. R. Hunt, manager of the 1927 Orange county fair, appeared and

ORANGE COUNTY CLUBWOMEN TO CONVENE SOON

Several hundred clubwomen of Orange county are expected to gather in the White Temple church, Anaheim, Friday of this week for the annual convention of the Orange County Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. A. P. Nelson, of Santa Ana, president, will be the presiding officer.

Officers will be elected in the afternoon. The opening session will begin at 9:30 a. m.

Mrs. Harry Goodell, of San Bernardino, state vice president at large, will be an honored guest.

Miss Josephine Seaman, of La Jolla, chairman of the state federation committee, will report on the activities of her committee during the last year.

Mrs. Amelia Meagher, secretary of the Orange County Tuberculosis association, will speak concerning the work of the organization.

Mrs. M. J. Marks, of Santa Ana, is chairman of the resolutions committee.

HARTER PRESIDENT OF JR. COLLEGE "Y"

Melvin Harter was elected president of the Santa Ana Junior College Y. M. C. A. for next year at a meeting held last night in the city "Y" building when ballot-box was held to choose the elective officers of the campus association.

The other officers chosen were Paris Edgar, vice president; Mark Martin, secretary; and Ralph Stewart, treasurer.

Plans are being outlined for holding an installation ceremony for the new officers. The officers will meet soon to choose their appointive officers, completing the executive board of the Campus association.

At the meeting last night, the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, rector of Church of the Messiah of Santa Ana, addressed the students on "The Place of Theology in Religion." An open discussion followed. The program was arranged by Melvin Harter, who, for the past year, has served on the cabinet as program chairman.

MARIONETTES TO PLAY HERE NEXT TUESDAY

University Women of This County Will Raise Money
For Scholarship Fund

Jean Gros French Marionettes will come to Santa Ana 60 strong next week to stage a benefit for a Junior College scholarship under the auspices of the American Association of University Women of Orange county.

Over 1000 strings are necessary to produce the effects of the play, and trained actors recite the lines of the play, while the puppets move about the stage in absolute life-like fashion. The illusion obtained is remarkable and holds the audience in suspense from the time the curtain rises until the end when, invariably every one calls for more seemingly never tiring of the action of the quaint figures.

The famous Bunny orchestra of eight rabbits with their leader is one of the great successes of the performance. These rabbits play with great vim and enthusiasm, seldom making a mistake with the music and are rated as marvelous musicians. They are very temperamental however, and when displeased with their audiences can be seen to wiggle their cotton tails. If they are delighted, they will continue to play until exhausted, and sometimes have to be assisted from the Marionette orchestra pit.

Nurse Jane is coming with Uncle Wiggly, and Jacko the monkey boy, the great hit of last season is coming with even more daring tricks. Jacko boasts that he has never fallen from his trapeze and offers a special reward to any boy or girl who can duplicate some of his wonderful feats. Mrs. Twisty-Tail refuses to stop eating and consequently is dreadfully fat. Uncle Wiggly is ashamed to have her appear in his play but does not like to hurt the lady's feeling. This is a warning to all boys and girls not to eat too much jam and sweet things, else they will look like the Pig Lady.

The bad chaps are still after the poor rabbit gentlemen but Uncle Wiggly defies them, and states that when one is good to his neighbor none of the evil chaps can possibly win over him.

Uncle Wiggly invites you all to see this show, and knows that all who come will have a mighty good time. The French Marionettes are to appear at Yost Spurgeon theater, on Tuesday, April 26.

TUSTIN WOMEN TO GIVE 'CLUB' PLAY

The many details connected with the successful presentation of the play have been completed by the ways and means committee of the association.

The cast includes Mrs. Josie Parks, Mrs. J. U. Vlau, Mrs. Jerome Kidd, Mrs. George Gaylord, Mrs. Roland Stearns, Mrs. Dan Adams, Mrs. Louis Reihl, Mrs. R. O. Newcomb, Mrs. Henry Pankey, Mrs. John Kaiser, Mrs. Archer and Mrs. Clarence Nisson.

The play is filled with mirth producing lines and the cast has spared no pains in making it a success. Much interest has been created throughout Tustin and a large attendance is expected.

West of the University of Minnesota, here for the meeting of the American Association of College Registrars, notes that students of today make at least as good marks as their predecessors and seem to succeed after leaving college.

ROCK THROWING MUST STOP IS CHIEF'S EDICT

Numerous complaints have been received at police headquarters during the past week, of boys throwing rocks at automobiles and houses, according to Claude Rogers, city marshal.

The bad practice is stopped immediately, arrests will be made and the youths charged with malicious mischief, the chief said.

Much of the trouble has been reported from Walnut street between Fourth and Fifth streets, it was said, but other reports have come in from all parts of the city, Rogers said.

That a number of boys and girls are daily endangering their lives by playing in the street, is contained in reports received at the police station from motorists, Rogers said. Parents are today warned by the department to see that their children stay out of the street.

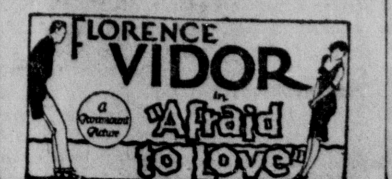

Several children have been injured during the past week by automobiles, all of the cases resulting from baseball playing and running promiscuously into the street, the city marshal said.

PLACENTIA PLANS FIRE EQUIPMENT

PLACENTIA, April 19.—The billboard ordinance setting a license fee of $25 per board, was last night amended by city trustees. The new ordinance allows a company to erect as many billboards as desired in town under one business license of $25.

Discussion of fire equipment occupied the most of the time of the trustees. A new fire hall was suggested and it was also suggested that the town purchase a chemical fire truck. The co-operation of ranchers outside the incorporate city limits will be sought in purchasing the fire engine. It is believed that by having the ranchers assist in paying for the fire engine, that fire protection can be given the entire district. Placentia now has a volunteer organization of 28 members.

REAL GLOBE TROTTER
BOSTON, April 18.—Having just crossed the Atlantic for the 106th time, Philip G. Peabody of Boston, 70, wealthy retired lawyer, is to remain in this country only two weeks, then start his 107th trip. He plans never to stop traveling. In 65 years he has circled the globe four times, traveled 2,000,000 miles and toured on 46 ships.

Appointment of Harris on Road Body Is Lauded

Appointment of M. B. Harris, of Fresno, as the third member of the state highway commission will take some of the burden off the shoulders of the other two members, according to J. P. Baumgartner, who received the news of Harris' appointment with satisfaction.

"Situations arise," said Baumgartner, member of the commission, "when the opinion of the third member is almost a necessity."

"The appointment of Harris gives central California splendid representation on the commission and from what I have heard of the new appointee he is a very able and efficient man."

BURGLARS ATTEMPT ROBBERY OF STORE

Burglars, who attempted to break into the sporting goods store of Victor Walker, 219 West Fourth street, at 3 a. m. today, were frightened away by Officer C. W. Wolford, who appeared in the alley back of the store, just as a window was being raised.

Wolford blew his emergency whistle and Officers Swain, Elliott and Dixon responded. A search of the entire block followed, but no one was seen. A car, parked in the alley nearby, was confiscated by officers and taken to the police station. Whether it was driven by the thieves or left in the alley by someone earlier in the night is not known. A man's cap was found in the car.

Wolford also found a ladder leading from the ground to the roof of the Walker building, but was unable to find an open window.

L. A. Driver Gets Case Continued

The case of Frank J. Bell, 4450 Honduras street, Los Angeles, charged with speeding 51 miles an hour over Orange county roads and also with failure to appear, scheduled to be heard in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today was continued for one week. The continuance was asked by A. P. Nelson, attorney for Bell.

Bell was arrested by F. G. Yoder, state officer on February 5, on the Irvine boulevard. A man named Earl Gahana, riding with Bell at the time, is alleged to have told the officer at that time that he would tear up the ticket, according to Yoder.

Bell was sentenced to appear here on February 11, to answer to the charge, but according to the court, he failed to put in his appearance.

GRAFF NOW SKIPPER
Fred Graff, veteran infielder, has been named manager of the new Selma club of the Southwestern league. Graff is in his twentieth season in professional baseball. He played in the Southern association for 11 years.

FRANK VAUGHN BENEFIT DANCE NEXT SATURDAY

Tickets for the Frank Vaughn benefit dance, to be held next Saturday night at the American Legion home on Birch street are selling fast, according to a statement made today by Joe Plank, of the Forty and Eight, one of the committees in charge of the dance.

The dance is being given by the American Legion, the Forty and Eight and the Register, in connection with the Register's fund, which netted approximately $700.

That at least $600 will be cleared on the dance, bringing the fund well over the $1000 mark, is the expectation of the dance committee.

The American Legion's regular dance committee will handle details of the dance, with Ed Koibe, in charge. Koibe said today that he had signed a well known orchestra to furnish music for the evening and that several attractive specialties will aid in making the dance a success.

Tickets are on sale at numerous downtown business houses and a number of persons have tickets on the streets. Those who fail to obtain tickets before the dance can purchase them at the door.

WIDE TO APPEAR IN RACES AT COLISEUM

LOS ANGELES, April 19.—Edvin Wide, Swedish middle distance star will compete in races here in May against the Los Angeles Athletic club Indians and other noted jockeys of the Pacific coast. Definite announcement of the date of Wide's appearance at the Coliseum is expected in a few days, as he is expected to make his first American outdoor appearance at Cambridge, Mass., in the near future.

Immediately after the Harvard engagement Wide will start westward.

The feature event for Wide's appearance here will probably be the mile and a quarter run.

FAILS IN PURCHASE
WASHINGTON, April 18.—A curious lady is no match for a sphinx. Mrs. Alvina T. Hert, vice chairman of the Republican national committee, went to the White House to find out whether Mr. Coolidge would run again. But, as she explained later, her host directed the conversation and she forgot the purpose of her visit.

136 DISPLAYS PREPARED FOR ANAHEIM SHOW AT THIS TIME

Yards of Blue Sky Needed
By Committee to Carry Out General Color Plan

AUTOMOBILE SHOW WILL BE SUCCESS

Auto Dealers of County
To Have Separate Tent
To House Their Displays

Practically every commodity known on earth has been bought and sold, but it now remains for the California Valencia Orange show, scheduled to open its doors at Anaheim, May 19, for 10 days, to make a purchase of 3000 yards of "sky."

The sky in this case happens to be Alice blue sateen and is to be used to cover the ceiling to the feature tent in which the Valencia exhibits are to be displayed. The effect of blue sky is necessary to be obtained at the Valencia show for the interior of the main section is to represent a woodland scene, in fact an enchanted forest and Alice blue sateen was selected for this purpose by P. G. Allen, of Los Angeles, who was awarded the contract to decorate the show.

Twenty-thousand yards of material will be purchased for decorating the entire show, it is reported by Allen. The auto section walls and ceiling are to be entirely canopied, to form a pleasing background for the beautiful automobile models that are to be carried out in this section, for these colors, according to Allen, will be ideal to bring out the richness of the displays.

In the industrial section where there are to be 136 displays, a decorative scheme of turquoise, American Beauty and Orange will be used and in the main or feature tent pastels will predominate.

63 'MASTERPIECES' ALL PROVE 'FAKES'

PARIS, April 19.—France, with all her artistic culture, is a good market for fake masterpieces. A collection of 63 paintings recently was bought by a wealthy Frenchman for 300,000 francs because many of the canvases were signed "Delacroix," "Millet," "Corot," "Monet," "Courbet" and other names with places in the Louvre.

Friends soon disillusioned the rich buyer and Charles Heim, the seller of the "heirlooms," had to refund the money. His defense was that he sold the collection without guaranteeing its authenticity.

"Anyhow," he told the judge, "he might have known he could get genuine pictures by such masters for that price."

GOES CORAL HUNTING
PRINCETON, N. J., April 19.—Carl Breder, Princeton student, is to spend his spring vacation doing a little Jules Verne stuff of his own adaptation. He's to hunt coral off Bermuda with a diving suit made by himself of odd and ends of steel and glass. Into the depths with him will go a motion picture camera of his own make. His automobile pump will supply air.

POLITICIANS IN ENGLAND MUST LEARN TO SING

LONDON, April 18.—Members of that house of commons who can't sing are at a disadvantage.
Politicians can no longer get by many of their constituencies on long speeches on the coal situation and the land problem. Crowds that desert the cinema to hear a spellbinding demand entertainment.

While the voters do not actually level guns at the feet of the spellbinders and shout "Sing, sing!" in the way oldtimers used to treat tenderloin of Arizona, they do almost as bad.

After the speaker has had a little fling on political problems the crowd at provincial gatherings begin to clamor for a song. It used to be that politicians took their wives or daughters or paid entertainers with them to sing. But this doesn't go any more. The British like to hear politicians try to sing. They have learned this from the Welsh, whose politicians all sing, and sing pretty well.

Even Lloyd George is not above breaking into song and the Labor
M. P.'s from Wales are many of them so good their coterie has been offered professional engagements in the music halls.

Crowds even specify the song they want their parliamentarians to sing. "The Froth Blowers' Anthem" is now the reigning favorite.

Candidates and house members of all parties are taking singing lessons in an effort to meet this extraordinary demand.

Sir Austen Chamberlain has not yet broken into song, but Harry Brittain, Conservative member of Aston, often sings "John Peel" to the delight of his political audiences.

British political gatherings are not the sober, reserved affairs that Britishers might be expected to stage. Men and women of all parties join in the heckling. But there is good humor behind the confusion. The meetings usually end with a merry sing-around that puts even the Socialists into such good humor that they join in singing "God Save the King."

way theater.

WEST COAST WALKER

Without doubt one of the most sensational pictures of the new season, "The Taxi Dancer," which closes tonight at the West Coast-Walker theater, lived up to all the advance heralding we had heard regarding it. Strictly speaking, we suppose this production would be classed as a melodrama, yet it is so softened by romance, and its plot is actuated by so much realism throughout that one is unconscious of its more sensational moments.

Joan Crawford, who has risen to cinematic heights within the past year, plays the title role, that of the carefully reared girl, who when faced with the hardest actualities is unprepared to meet them. Miss Crawford essays the part of the "taxi dancer," the little understood class of girls who hire out as professional partners for any men who care to dance with them.
By a perfectly natural train of events, this girl, "Joslyn Poe," whom Joan portrays, is forced to become one of these girls, but the method in which she is extricated is most unusual and thrilling.

An excellent performance is given by Owen Moore, who plays the part of the good-hearted crook,
"Lee Rogers," who reforms in spite of himself through his association with Joslyn. Moore's sincerity, coupled with his humor, makes him one of the most likable of leading men.

You don't have to go to a larger city to see the "big ones." This is being proved right now in your own popular town.

Fanchon and Marco's amazing presentation, the "Ali Baba Idea" has in the past two days proved a sensation.

Beautiful girls (39 of them) gorgeous costumes, clever dances, versatile singers, elaborate stage settings and hilarious comedy, all of this is offered in this astounding "idea."

Bobby Wolf and his Playboys furnish the music.

BREA

BREA, April 19.—Mrs. R. E.
Bowie was brought to her home a few days ago from the Fullerton hospital, where she recently underwent a major operation. From which she is said to be recovering nicely.

Miles King has been spending some time in Brea recently looking after the repairing, painting and papering of his five-room house on South Orange street.
The King family is now living at Compton.

Miss Victoria Reed is spending her Easter vacation in Los Angeles, where she is visiting in the home of a sister and grandmother.

W. A. Culp is taking advantage of the absence of members of his family, who are spending a week in Oakland with Miss Julia, to have the dining room, kitchen and bathroom of the home freshly painted.

Twelve tables of "500" were played in Sewell hall Thursday night at the regular monthly card party of the Pythian Sisters.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs.
Charles Gruber, of Fullerton, and Walter Ford, of Anaheim, with second awards to Mrs. Minnie Pfleiffer, and Mr. Twining, both of Brea. Mrs. Alice Limes acted as hostess.

Sixteen-year-old Ben Baker, employed temporarily at the Brea Boiler works, met with a serious accident while working in the shop last week. In some way not clearly explained, Baker became entangled with the belt on the machinery with which he was working, with the result that his right leg was broken between the knee and ankle, the knee fractured and his back and hip badly wrenched.

The lad, who is a student at the Brea-Olinda union high school, and who resides with his mother at 241 South Walnut, was taken at once to the Fullerton General hospital in the ambulance of Dr.
Auley and Sutor. He is said to be recovering nicely from the painful injuries and shock but will be laid up for some time.

Mrs. R. L. Shaw, of 321 East
Truslow, was taken in the ambulance of Hilgenfeld and Rollins on Thursday to a hospital on West Commonwealth, Fullerton.

Saturday night was the scene of a merry party in the Reed home, when Miss Victoria entertained a group of her young friends at playing games, doing stunts and contests of several kinds. Refreshments were served during the evening. Those present were the hostess, Jerry Woodward, Lucille Cogshell, Mary Hunt, Evelyn Morford, Lois Reed, Ethel Kuenzli and Nondys Smith, Kenneth Varner, Francis Siebenthal, Ellsworth Phillips, Artie Jamison, Hollis Blakesley and John Peek.

Mrs. E. E. Anderson is reported to be quite ill at her home on South Redwood, where she is under the care of Dr. C. E. Steen. Her mother, Mrs. W. D. Tremaine, is with her much of the time.

Trial of Earl Everhardt, charged by B. A. Whiteside with poisoning of dogs, has been postponed from April 12 to April 28, to be heard at the Los Angeles Superior Court.

Mrs. H. A. Habre, Everhardt is at liberty under bond of $500.

Legion auxiliary card parties, heretofore held on the first and third Friday of the month, hereafter will be held on the first and third Thursday of each month, the next to be on April 21. The change

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

It's a knockout. The picture we have reference to is "The Yankee Clipper," now showing at the Yost Broadway.

Here is real entertainment. There is drama—or, rather, melodrama—that rivets your attention throughout: action—lots of it—spectacular and gripping; color that runs riot on a background of a tempestuous sea, with sea-faring types reminiscent of the most absorbing tales of Robert Louis Stephenson, Joseph Conrad and other masters of the sea story. Then, too, there is an authentic history interest that makes for realism and adds tremendously to the production.

The period in which the story of "The Yankee Clipper" is laid in that glorious era in American history when the clipper ship was mistress of the sea, just prior to the Civil war. With such a background, the producers of "The Yankee Clipper" graphically present a story that actually reflects the spirit of the times.

The storm scenes are exceedingly well done and convincing. The big fight on board when the "rotter" incites a mutiny, is a corker, in which William Boyd, as Captain Winslow, does heroic work with his trained fists. Boyd is an actor with a healthy he-man personality that is most refreshing.

Elinor Fair, the heroine, is lovely to look on and charming in a sympathetic role. Walter Long, the "heavy," is at his best—or rather, worst—in a villainous role that earns him new laurels.

YOST THEATER
You'll be sorry if you miss "Sorrows of Satan." D. W. Griffith's latest picture which is at the Yost theater, should be seen by each and every movie-goer, because—

It advances the technique of motion picture direction in one film miles ahead of others. Once more Griffith proves himself the great maestro. Because—

Pantomime is placed on a higher level than ever before. Adolphe Menjou as a modern Satan leaves nothing to be desired. Ricardo Cortez proves himself an actor of depth and feeling. Carol Dempster is superb and Lya de Putti, making her first American appearance, carves a niche for herself in the hearts of American film fans.

And because—
Marie Corelli's widely read novel makes good picture material.

suggested that the chamber sponsor the queen contest in connection with the exposition. A queen will be selected in each city to compete for election as queen of the fair.

In regard to parks and playgrounds, the directors found they could not take any further action under a motion picture act, and meant to lay the matter on the table for two weeks, but it was the feeling that the project should again be brought to the attention of the voters of Santa Ana as soon as a definite program has been decided upon.

APACHE GAME
LA BELLOTTE, an Apache card game, has been adopted and made longer for the favor of Paris society.
A Belotte championship of France competition was recently held in Paris with 250 entries from all parts of France. The game is a very complicated one and requires great skill, but its popularity is growing rapidly.

tions on Friday night.

Miss Margaret Falconer, teacher in the local grammar schools, spent the week end in Bakersfield with the Misses Cuba Hill and Irene Williamson, both formerly of Brea and now ministers in the church of the Full Gospel Assembly with headquarters in the northern city.

Mrs. H. J. Bates, formerly a resident of Brea but for the past several months living with her husband at the soldiers' home at Saw-telle, was a visitor in Brea for a short time Thursday. Mrs. Bates was looking after business in connection with the little home they still own here.

Glider Towed by Airplane Makes Successful Flight

COLOGNE, April 18.—A new demonstration in gliding has been demonstrated on the aerodrome at Cassel by Herr Espenlaub. A glider was towed into the air by an ordinary power-driven airplane. At a height of about 5000 feet the tow rope was detached and Herr Espenlaub, in his glider, planned back to the aerodrome.

In order to minimize the risk of accident the tow rope was so arranged as to be detachable at a moment's notice either by the airplane pilot or the glider pilot.
It is intended to hold an exhibition of this type of gliding in Cassel next May.

NEWS OF LOCAL SCHOOLS

FRANCES WILLARD

Merits Awarded

The merit system in Frances Willard is positive as well as negative. At any time during the term teachers may hand in a recommendation that certain pupils be given some extra merits for special deeds of kindness which they have performed apart from scholastic or required duties. Merits have been given for helping those pupils who are unfortunate in any way and unable to do all that the others can do; also for helping teachers, and rendering services which deserve special recognition for the good of any individuals or the school in general. It is gratifying to know that a great many pupils in Willard are inclined to help out in many different ways with particular thought of being rewarded. At the end of each semester the merit committee considers the recommendations sent in and posts a list of those receiving special merits. The following pupils have received merits during the past semester:

George Griffith, Marvin Johnson, Bruce Tarver, George Haskell, Kenneth Beard, Norman Paul, Neal Thornhill, John Hoy, Gilbert Elliott, Thelma Jackson, Beulah Cone, Mabel Johnston, Jean Bishop, Norma Tibbets, Georgia Gail Pennock, Elma McBride, Frances Wilson, Evelyn Wiebe, Ruth Landon, Vera Plerson, Lois Reed, Gene Wood, Esther White, Marie Rachel, Eva Wright, Katherine Robbins, Dale Van Gorkum, Kiyoshi Higashi, Ralph Lessenger, Clyde Van Horn, Max Elliott, Tom Blakeman, Roy Gundrum, Tom Griffith, George Munroe, Bill O'Neill, Sammy Tucker, LeRoy Wonder, Fred Garland, Clifford Haskell, George Miles, Robert Scove, DeEstine Finn, Raymond Nowotny, Melvin Maxwell, Lloyd Kneeland, Harriett Morris, Velma Ewing, Thelma Shippe, William Wallingford, Pete Casas, Mario Mercurio, Stewart Wasson, Ernest Williams, William Blanchard, Bill Borah, Arthur Cummings, Glen Evans, and Fayette Blower.

The following transfers have been made during the past few weeks: Elmer Lee has gone to Huntington Beach, Beulah Graham has gone to Kentucky, Linnell Taylor has gone to Whittier, Eleanor Gwyn has gone to Riverside, Lois Becker, Ruth and Gladys Dunn, and Howard and Edna Everson have been transferred to Lathrop; Edythe Moss has gone to Oklahoma.

This has been rather an unlucky week with so many transfers. There are also quite a number of pupils out of school on account of measles but we are sure they will be back in the near future.

JULIA LATHROP

Welfare Club

The Willard Welfare club held its regular meeting at the luncheon hour Wednesday, Georgia Gail Pennock, president, presided. The girls voted to have a candy sale next Friday for the purpose of swelling the treasury. Following the business meeting an interesting and humorous game was enjoyed until it was time to adjourn.

Exhibition of Coins

The exhibit case in the main hall held an attractive exhibit of old coins last week. Lloyd Christian furnished the coins which have been collected for several generations. There were many coins of this country and other countries, many of which were very old and valuable. Lloyd has labelled each piece. This was different from any other displays at the school and it attracted considerable attention and interest.

Willard Service Club

After luncheon last Tuesday, the president of the Willard Service club, Fayette Blower, called the meeting to order. The secretary read the minutes and the roll was called. It was unanimously voted to send a letter of greeting to Mr. Kellogg who was up north attending the principal's convention. After all business matters were attended to each member told of his interesting experiences during spring vacation. The meeting was then adjourned.

Attends Convention

Mr. Kellogg was absent from school last week as he attended the principal's convention which was held in Sacramento. He reported that the meetings were very interesting and worthwhile and also brought back some good suggestions for the betterment of the school. However, he was pleased to note that Francis Willard junior high school ranked well in junior high school administrations. During his trip, Mr. Kellogg had the pleasure of visiting his mother who resides in Oakland.

Every Girl's Assembly

Every Girl's club meeting was held in assembly last Friday and their varied and colorful program surely marked the advent of spring for girls at Frances Willard. The stage was artistically decorated in spring flowers. Mrs. Thatcher made some announcements after which Florine Pollock, the president, took charge of the day's program. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Alice Jacobson. The treasurer's report was read by Charlene Lowell, the treasurer. Following the business meeting the following program was enjoyed:

Two vocal solos were sung by Miss Dorothea Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Brackett. They were very greatly appreciated and Miss Smith responded with an encore, "From the Land of the Sky Blue Waters."

Nadine Carmack favored the girls with a humorous reading, "I Ain't goin' to Cry No More." Her encore was "Seeing Things at Night" which was equally appreciated.

Beatrice Granis, a talented little girl from Lincoln school, entertained with a lovely piano solo. Her next number was a most interesting reading "Nobody Loves Me," after which she gave "Not Afraid."

The next part of the program was a fashion show under the direction of Miss Schroeder. All the garments displayed were made by the girls themselves except two beautiful Chinese costumes which Mrs. Thatcher brought from China. Several small children who are not of school age also took part in the fashion show. As the models approached the stage they were introduced by Eayre McCurdy. During the show Esther Vogt played the piano.

This program was one of the most interesting and varied ones ever given by the Every Girl's club. The next program will be the annual meeting and entertainment at Birch park.

Ellen Pride Returns

Ellen Pride of the high seventh grade, has returned to school after a long illness. The students are glad that Ellen has sufficiently recovered to return to school and they hope her improvement will continue.

Willard Loses

Thursday, April 13, the Lathrop intermediate indoor team played the Willard intermediate team and defeated it, 6 to 4.

At the end of the third inning, Lathrop had four runs to Willard's three, but Willard was unable to bring in another run until the ninth inning.

Both teams played a fine game. There were very few fumbles and there were no rattle-headed, wild plays.

These teams play again in three weeks and Willard is going to try her best to finish the game with the score in her favor.

Office Notes

The following transfers have been made during the past few weeks: Elmer Lee has gone to Huntington Beach, Beulah Graham has gone to Kentucky, Linnell Taylor has gone to Whittier, Eleanor Gwyn has gone to Riverside, Lois Becker, Ruth and Gladys Dunn, and Howard and Edna Everson have been transferred to Lathrop; Edythe Moss has gone to Oklahoma.

This has been rather an unlucky week with so many transfers. There are also quite a number of pupils out of school on account of measles but we are sure they will be back in the near future.

Broadcast Program

The music department reports that members of the Lathrop low nine girls' glee club broadcast over Radio KWTC on April 6, with successful results.

Members of the glee club will go to Costa Mesa Tuesday, April 19, for a concert. Since we have so many Costa Mesa people at Lathrop it is desirable to encourage a spirit of friendship and co-operation between the two schools.

Oriental Display

The exhibit case under the right stairway in the rotunda boasts a beautiful display of Chinese and Japanese coats, emporiums and prints mounted by Miss Edith Elavan and displayed by Miss Reid of the social studies department. The garments were sent to Miss Plavan by her brother-in-law whose work is in China. Some of the articles displayed are: Tray cloths, embroidered pillow slips and covers, handmaiden lace skirt, wedding procession cloth, mandarin coat, pressed coat, robe coat, 24 napkins and Japanese prints done in oil on crepe paper. These articles will be on display for a week and Lathrop is glad to extend an invitation to those who are interested in the exhibit to visit the school and inspect it.

The 6th English class under Miss Blythe's direction held a spirited "double header" debate, the subject for which was "Resolved: That Tournaments Were of More Interest to the People of Medieval Time than Are the Olympic Games to the People of Today." Those students taking part in the first debate on the affirmative were Ruth Swanson, John McKee and Mito Ameyworth. Those upholding the negative were Bernice Summers, Dean Thompson and Ruth Cheeseman. In the second debate Florence Resnick, Ben Hester and Elsie Starck upheld the affirmative while Janice Black, Letha Smith and Arthur Casey upheld the negative. The negative won in both cases, with members of the class acting as judges.

Club Meetings

Meetings of the Every Girl's club and the Boys' I. X. L. club were held last Wednesday. The Every Girl's club enjoyed a musical program and a very interesting talk by Miss Nancy Elder, leader of the Girl Reserves work in Santa Ana and secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

Robert O'Brien a former Lathrop student talked to the members of the I. X. L. in a very entertaining manner of his trip around the world and several students played musical selections.

Several very interesting art books from Czechoslovakia have been received by the art department in return for the one which we sent last year through the junior Red Cross. With them came the following letter, translated from the original copy:

"We are sending you many cordial regards, and thanks for your beautiful portfolio which we looked through with great interest and we admired your beautiful country. In return we send our works. They are specimens which we made for the contest held by the junior organization of Czechoslovak Red Cross. For the contest we were 100 candidates; we got the sixth place."

"The works are on the school basis and it is interesting that they have the same tasks of yours. We liked the colored harmonies of Marguerite Taylor. We also lay the stress to writing. We are anxious to hear your opinion of our works. When we got your portfolios we immediately went to the map. We knew where California is your country here is known as rich of gold and everybody knows it. Your town we found easily. It will be worse for you to look for our Destina in Czech. We shall write you a few lines about it." Then follows an account of the history of the Bohemian countries, and description of the climate.

The two art books represent the work of the upper and lower elementary grades, and a third book is a collection of colored scenic postcards. The books will soon be placed on exhibit in the cases in the lower hall. They are extremely colorful, beautiful in design and well done, so are treasured highly by the school.

ROOSEVELT

Miss Grant had charge of the assembly given in the kindergarten Wednesday morning.

The program was opened with the flag salute by the whole school. Paul Wolvane announced the different numbers.

Some children from the high third gave the poem, "What is Pink." They also read some verses which were written in the low third grade. Those to write the verses were Betty Gallagher, Betty Bradley, Ellen Du Temple, Edith Parsons, Atha Gillmore, Ted Mortiz, Dean Howell and Robert Holt.

The children of the low second grade gave a two act play, "The Secret." They made the scenery used in the play. The cast was Celia Rameriz, Mrs. Bunny; Philip Jones, Mr. Bunny; Joyce Dakin, White Rabbit; Dick Horton, Cottontail.

Ralph Pagenkopp played a violin solo accompanied by his mother.

Easter Party

On Friday the kindergarten class had a small Easter party. The children made little Easter baskets on Thursday and placed them in inviting places hoping the Easter fairy bunny would find them and leave a few candy Easter eggs in them.

Miss Wirick and the children sang songs, played games, and told stories about bunnies and Easter time.

Venture Forth Club

The Venture Forth club elected Ruby Moore to succeed the vice-president, Grace Rogers, who has gone away.

The next venture is to compose a little newspaper, to be based upon school news and activities.

World Wide Club

The meeting was called to order by the president, Gordon Biesel. The minutes were read by the secretary Ramond Floyed.

The program consisted of two minute talks. The following members of the club gave talks: Reginald Vansel, Margaret Hill, Bernard Horton, Jack MacFarlen, Don Wismer, David Webb, Frances Marr, Virginia Carassosa, Thelma Holt, Emma Regia, Dorothy Cary, Irma Borland, Kenneth Georgson, Gerald Crawford, Dee Witt Cline, Ramond Floyed, Gordon Biesel, Bruce Harnois, June Sogn. Two victrola records, "Patriotic Airs of the Allies," and "Hungarian Cyarades," were played as a closing number.

—Bruce Harnois.

Art Appreciation

The Roosevelt school feels that it is very fortunate in having the Laguna artists' collection at the school for the past week and this week. Last week the first, second and third grade children were allowed to go in to the kindergarten where they were hung, at noon and at recess time. This week the fourth, fifth and sixth grades have this privilege.

McKINLEY

Japanese Sand Table

The high five class has constructed a Japanese scene on the sand table in Miss Gertrude Potts' room. They have four little branches of a tree decorated with pink paper blossoms. In a Japanese house stands a little Japanese doll with a silver fan in her hand. There is a pretty little bridge at the other end of the sand table. Two little dolls are at the foot of the bridge. There are two rows of lanterns and a Japanese doll is standing between the rows.

Marguerite Barker.

Everybody is back at school again after spring vacation, and school work has been resumed with a great deal of enthusiasm.

The members of the high sixth Rinky Dink club are going to entertain the low sixth class with a circus program next Monday morning.

Glee Club Wins

Great enthusiasm was shown by the members of the glee club of McKinley school on their trip to Fullerton to enter the county elated. The members were taken in several cases cheerfully donated by the parents who accompanied the group. Class songs were sung on the way and it was a happy day indeed when the children won first place in the elementary division. Miss Naydine McIntire directed the group.

JOHN MUIR

Mr. Bunny pleasantly surprised the kindergarten children when he appeared at their Easter party with chocolate bunnies and eggs. In return for his kindness he was given some lettuce, the first to be picked from their vegetable garden.

The fourth grade is producing a little play to be given in honor of John Muir's birthday. The whole school will participate in a program given at this time.

The Water You Drink — Doctors Recommend Three Tests of Its Healthfulness!

DOCTORS say, "Drink Three Pints of Water a Day." This is most important. For water is a primary source of health which is consumed in these quantities daily.

But drinking water should first satisfy three health tests. First, it must be pure. Second, it must contain minerals—from 6 to 10 grains to the gallon. And third, it must be pleasant to taste. Any water that will satisfy these three requirements is good for you to drink. And any water that will not satisfy these requirements is below par for drinking purposes.

Purity

First, consider the requirement of purity. Water must be free from germs, harmful bacteria or injurious chemicals.

In its purest state, water comes from the clouds and melted snows of high mountains. When you drink it, therefore, its purity depends upon its freedom from contact with impurities.

Thus, drinking water must be pure—it must protect existing good health. Arrowhead Water is certified pure!

Minerals

Then water should contain the natural mineral salts that are in the body. These salts should be in the proportions that the body requires—6 to 10 grains per gallon. This is because water should be neutral, it should neither add nor detract from the mineral supply of the body.

Waters lacking in mineral content have the power to absorb minerals from the body. Thus, they have a devitalizing effect. And waters that are too rich in minerals create an over-supply and may be harmful. In either case a physician should be consulted before drinking them.

Arrowhead Water is healthful!

"Good" to Taste

And finally, drinking water should be good to taste—sparkling with purity, health and flavor. Some waters are "flat" due to artificial methods of purifying, etc. We do not enjoy drinking them and hence it is difficult to consume "Three Pints a Day." Delicious natural spring waters, such as every one has at some time tasted, are adjudged to be most refreshing and tasteful. Arrowhead Water is good to taste!

Arrowhead Spring Water comes from melted snows high in the San Bernardino Mountains. It seeps through 15 miles of virgin granite to Arrowhead Springs. In this way it absorbs many healthful minerals—7 grains to the gallon. As it bubbles to the surface at this famous spring, it is placed in huge glass-lined tank cars, rushed to the Los Angeles bottling plant, and delivered to your home absolutely fresh.

home absolutely fresh. You drink it as if you were at the spring 70 miles away!

Thus, Arrowhead Spring Water is pure, mineralized and good to taste. It fulfills these three recognized requirements of good drinking water. Order a 5-gallon bottle delivered to your home or office today. It costs but 50 cents—less than 1 cent per glass! We furnish stand and cooler free—and we guarantee immediate, regular delivery. Order a healthful bottle today.

We bottle Arrowhead Spring Water the same day it bubbles from the spring, and deliver it to your home absolutely fresh.

Do You Admire Your Neighbor's Lawn? Make Him Admire Yours!

You can do it with a little high test Kentucky Bluegrass Seed and White Clover, fertilized thoroughly with "GROZIT" Pulverized Sheep Manure. We have another carload of "GROZIT." This is the same high-grade, finely-ground, free from weed seed, guaranteed analysis fertilizer that we have been selling you for years. It is the finest fertilizer that you can buy for your lawn. It is especially adapted for use on flowers, shrubbery, potted plants, trees and nursery stock. The guaranteed Nitrogen test is 1.65 and it actually tests out around 2.25.

There are hundreds of lawns in Orange County that are filled with excavation dirt. It is extremely difficult to get a good, well colored grass growth on that type of soil unless it is well fertilized. We recommend a hundred pound sack of "GROZIT" for every 400 square feet of area.

"GROZIT" is not unpleasant to apply—neither is it obnoxious around the premises after being applied. In reasonable quantities it is very satisfactory and cannot harm anything from being applied too heavily.

INJURIES HANDICAP
In doping the pennant chances of a ball club it is impossible to accurately figure injuries. There is no bigger item.

Major league clubs have been known to go through an entire season without having any of their players handicapped through accidents on the field. The Boston Red Sox of 1912, for example.

On the other hand, clubs that were doped to cut a wide swath in the championship have been almost put out of the running before the opening of the season.

When a series of accidents overtakes a major league ball club, the reserve strength gets a real chance to prove its value. It has been a baseball axiom that a club is no stronger than its substitutes. It's a pretty well established truth.

The Washington club of the American league to date has been hit hardest by accidents.

Pitching excepted, Washington looked the equal of any other major league club, when I gave the team the once over in its training quarters at Tampa, Fla.

Many Tough Breaks
The very day that I arrived at Tampa, things began to go badly for the Nationals. Ever since it has been a succession of tough breaks. As I stood on the sidelines, discussing the club with Clark Griffith and Manager Stanley Harris, both expressed great satisfaction with the lineup, frankly admitting that pitching was the only real worry.

Walter Johnson was pitching to the batters. He looked great, had remarkable speed for so early in the spring.

"If Barney (that's what the players call Walter Johnson) has a big year, it will mean everything to the club's chances," remarked Manager Harris.

"They say of New York that the way Ruth goes, so goes the club. That holds good for Washington relative to Johnson. It means a lot to have him hitting on high.

"When Johnson is going good, the whole club seems inspired. Incidentally, he is a threat the opposition constantly fears when he is winning consistently."

Just as Harris finished his eulogy to Johnson, a line drive from Joe Judge's bat struck him just above the left ankle. He has been out of the game ever since.

Johnson's Accident
The injury to Johnson was probably the worst thing that could have happened to the Washington club. While the winning of 20 ball games would be a lot for Johnson this year, his presence on the club, traveling at top speed, has a widespread influence.

A finger broken shortly afterwards has kept Manager Harris out of play. The star outfielders, Tris Speaker and Sam Rice, have suffered leg injuries. Shortstop Myer has also ailed considerably during the training season. In addition there have been many other injuries of more or less minor nature.

Before the season started, the Washington club suffered almost a season's quota of injuries. Certainly nothing will serve to test the mettle of the club more than the tough luck run into during the training period.

The courage of Manager Harris under fire is too well known to need comment. He can be depended on to fight his hardest with his back to the wall. I am sure the team will follow its leader. So don't entirely count the Nationals out because of early injuries.

July 2 is the date now fixed for the opening of the race meeting at Reno, Nevada.

BOWLERS TO VIE IN TOURNEY ON SUNDAY

County's Ablest Trundlers
Entered in Six-Game
Individual Meet

Thirty-six of Orange county's best trundlers will vie for lucrative prizes and honors at the Bowlers' Inn here Sunday in the first annual Orange County Bowling Classic, sponsored by Harry Gaspar, proprietor.

Bowlers with averages of 130 or less will be eligible. Entries are expected from Anaheim, Orange, Fullerton and Huntington Beach as well as this city.

One squad of 18 will take the drives at 3 p. m. with a finishing squad of the same number scheduled to begin hitting the lumber at 8 p. m.

Gaspar said that six games will be rolled across six alleys and against heavy wood. Total pins for all games will count. Six awards will be made. First money will be in the neighborhood of $50.

Entries will close Friday night.

FULL STRENGTH
IN NEXT GAME

Full strength of the Santa Ana high school baseball squad will be mustered for the Coast Preparatory league battle with South Pasadena here Friday afternoon. This was learned today from Coach Bill Foote, baseball mentor, who brought the shattered Poly forces through the last of the circuit clashes in shipshape fashion, winning from Whittier.

Warren and Russell Sullivan, the two Irishmen, will be back in the lineup. Russell Sullivan played in the practice game yesterday when the Santa Ana team met the Tustin prep nine at Tustin. Although Russell did not get back to his regular ball smashing, the Santa Ana team easily won from the Tustinites, 11 to 6.

Another practice set-two, possibly this afternoon with Orange, was being arranged today by Coach Foote.

Ralph Rozelle, Santa Ana junior college baseball recruit, took the mound in a practice game yesterday with Garden Grove high school and although he wasn't able to turn in a victory for the Dons, his performance brought commendation from his teammates and a promise from Coach Graham Harris that he would have another chance for a "fling."

Garden Grove, behind the steady pitching of Natland, took back their chipper section an 8 to 3 victory.

Coach Graham Harris arranged the game as a practice for the conference encounter that is scheduled for Thursday with Citrus junior college at the local park.

The collegians were not hitting yesterday but Knight, third baseman, spoiled Natland's chance for a no-hit game when he singled in the third for the only safe blow the locals made.

Treasured U. S. Sport Cups In Danger
Foreigners Threaten Yank Supremacy

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, April 19.—America's most treasured sport possessions are the International polo cup, the Davis tennis cup, the Olympic championship, the world heavyweight championship and the America's cup—the premier yachting award.

The title to two of them will be threatened seriously in the next competition on the Philadelphia tennis courts and on the track in Amsterdam. Only the yacht cup and the boxing crown seem to be protected strongly against foreign threats.

Everyone recognizes the strength of the French tennis team, and if Bill Tilden doesn't succeed in his efforts to come back the French will be odds-on favorites to win the Davis cup.

TWO MEETINGS
OF NIGHT BALL

Two meetings this week, one here tonight and another in Orange Friday night, will definitely determine the status of Santa Ana's 1927 indoor baseball season. Representatives of the Santa Ana Indoor Ball association, the "father" of the night sport here, and of Santa Ana post No. 131, American Legion, which sponsored the game last summer, will assemble at the P. C. Blatter grocery at 6:45 o'clock tonight and make a final effort to reach an agreement on a city league.

The Legion's committee is composed of Carl Edgar, A. B. Berry and Fred Faber. The association's spokesmen are Robert Fernandez, T. J. Neal and F. C. Blauer.

Considerable misunderstanding has ensued since the original meeting of the association's triumvirate with the executive council of the Legion but the committee men are expected to settle their slight differences this evening and take a long step forward toward organization.

The assembly at Orange probably will be the last before the Orange County Night Baseball league begins its second annual season early in June. The county leopards may gather again to adopt a schedule but all the detail work, such as admitting new clubs and drawing up rules and regulations, will be thrashed out.

Santa Ana, Orange, La Habra, Anaheim, Olive and Garden Grove are certain starters and it is probable that the other two franchises will go to Huntington Beach and Fullerton. Jack Robertson, manager of the Huntington Beach team, has announced his intention of appearing at the meeting and applying for a franchise.

Fullerton balked at entering the circuit last summer but is said to look on the proposition with more enthusiasm now.

HUNTER WINS STATE
GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—While Hunter, golf artist de luxe, woke up in Los Angeles today with $600 in his jeans and another California Open championship title jotted down on his list of triumphs, the fruit of his laborious but victorious battle on a San Francisco suburban course yesterday with Harold Sampson, a rising young Burlingame pro.

A Britisher always fights best when he fights with his back to the wall. They did it Flanders, and "Woody Willie" did it yesterday. Time and again Hunter drove himself into traps but each time he rose to the occasion. All the breaks seemed to go to Sampson, but the Burlingame player couldn't follow them and Hunter plugged steadily through to win by a score of 80 strokes to Sampson's 82.

The International polo cup is in the same danger that threatens the tennis trophy, although the peril is less immediate. America's success in international tennis has been largely due to Tilden, Bill Johnston, Dick Williams and Vinnie Richards.

Richards is lost to the amateur game, the other three are slowing down and there are no young players of equal skill to take their places.

The title to the polo cup was made secure by a similar group of star players headed by Devereaux Milburn. They can't go on forever. There are some good young players coming along but it is doubtful whether they can compete successfully with British army players no longer occupied with war.

After the failure of Sir Thomas Lipton's millions to build the fastest racing yacht, it seems that America's cup never will leave this country as long as the clause in the charter which forces the challenger to sail across the ocean is retained.

The world heavyweight championship, for the present generation at least, does not seem to be in danger of any foreign threat. Gene Tunney may not be the greatest of all champions but he ranks as the best of the field and certainly is the superior of any foreigners unless Tom Heeney, the New Zealand, comes along unexpectedly.

HORNSBY HOMES

Rogers Hornsby, ex-Cardinal, made an impressive debut as a New York Giant when the Athletics were trounced 15 to 7 in the season's opening game at Philadelphia; he got two hits and registered four runs. Here endeth his homer in the 6th.

GARDEN GROVE BALL TEAM AFTER GAMES

Charley Bustillos to Head Powerful Assembly of Diamond Pastimers

Every other Orange county semi-pro baseball team will have to "get on its pony" if it hopes to hold its own with the Garden Grove Cubs, a new club now in the process of formulation.

Some of the leading pastimers in these parts have agreed to wear the Garden Grove spangles this summer and Manager Bustillos already has issued an out-and-out challenge for games.

The Cubs aren't making any noise just yet about beating Joe Rodgers' formidable Republic Spangles but they have made it known that even the classy Huntington Beach outfit won't be barred after the boys have a game or two under their belts.

Jake Garr, Charley Blaeholder, Clarence Olson, Kenneth Tyler, Dave Hayden, Harry Jewell, Fred Windler, Joe Maldonado, F. Penhall and Bustillos are members of the Cub machine.

BIG SOUTHLAND
MEET NEXT FOR
OLIVER'S TEAM

Although the bulk of Coach "Texas" Oliver's handmen turned their backs on the 1927 track and field season today, the seniors done as prep cinderpaths and the underclassmen willing to wait for another year, for six of the leading Santa Ana high school satellites the next three weeks were to bring the severest competition of a long schedule.

Captain Harvey Bear, Harold Breeding, John Moffatt, Manley Moffatt, Ernie Velarde and Bob Jacques qualified for the Southern California Interscholastic by placing in the Coast Prep league meet at Glendale two weeks ago and Oliver will lead his star sextette to the Coliseum in Los Angeles next Saturday to participate in the preliminaries for the annual classic.

While Santa Ana has little or no chance to take first place in the All-Southern, indications are that Oliver's men will finish among the first six teams and there is always that fighting 100 to 1 chance that the team might spill the dope all over the place and outpoint Glendale, Pasadena, Chaffey, Los Angeles, Hollywood and the other favorites.

What Might Happen
In Poly has better than an outside chance to land two first places and the less conspicuous locals might get "hot" and turn in some totally unexpected digits. Riverside, lightly considered by the newspaper experts, turned such a trick two years ago, winning the prep classic to the utter amazement of Los Angeles Polytechnic high, which thought the championship rested between it and San Diego.

Captain Bear will face some remarkable interscholastic sprinters when he toes the line with Frank Wykoff and Russ Slocum of Glendale, Lombardi of Los Angeles, Crawley of Montebello and Wehner of Brawley, but the Santa Ana race-horse need not doff his cap to any of them in the 220 which he will have an even chance to capture if Oliver decides to run him in this race only.

Bear also is eligible to compete in the 100 but he is a notoriously slow man off his mark and hardly figures to get in ahead of Wykoff, Slocum or Wehner, although he probably could hook fourth.

Breeding's Opponents Worthy
Breeding also will meet some tough customers. Storms, of Hollywood, Calhoun, of Manual Arts, Hirschman, of Jefferson, Serrano, of Chino, Meech of Inglewood and Hawthorth of Los Angeles being the outstanding runners of the finest field of mile negotiators Southern California prepdom has ever developed.

The winner will have to travel 4:30 or better to win, in the opinion of well informed followers of the Olympic calling, and Breeding looks as capable of making that time as any of them. Storms probably will give the crack Santa Ana the most trouble for he is a strong finisher.

Velarde's consistent broad-jumping marks him as a real dark horse. His 21:4 hope figure to place but hardly to get one-two, but a lunge of 22 feet or better, such as he might get off at anytime, might raise him with the well laid plans of certain city track tutors.

Oliver has decided to enroll John Moffatt as his "extra" entrant and the curly-haired blond will compete with Jacques and Manley Moffatt in the high jump. John Moffatt also is eligible for the high hurdles but hardly figures to place against such speedy rivals as Ritchey, Welsh, Calvert and Townes.

Mary Browne to Hear Golf Status

NEW YORK, April 19.—Miss Mary K. Browne, former national women's tennis champion, who has just accepted a place as tennis professional at the Westchester Women's Golf and Tennis club, may learn today whether she is eligible to compete in amateur golf tournaments. The executive committee of the American Golf association was scheduled to take up her case at its meeting here.

BOXING CZAR

A "fighting parson" has been made boxing czar at Seattle, Wash. Rev. George V. McClure knows boxing is illegal in Washington, but he is going to run the game in the open and defy the law. He is a former amateur boxer and believes that clean fights, minus brutality, which will give the fans their money's worth, will be successful.

GEORGE BLAEHOLDER
JOINS TULSA AGAIN

Garden Grove Pitcher Now Property of Western League Outfit

George Blaeholder, of Garden Grove, once again has been turned back to the Tulsa, Western league, club by the St. Louis Browns, according to word received here today from the Mount City. Blaeholder joined the Oilers in time to work the first game of the season.

This is the third trip that the husky Orange county right hand moundsman has made from minor to major and back again and this time he reverts to Tulsa as permanent possession of the Western leaguers.

Major league regulations prohibit a team from "farming" a player under option more than twice.

Blaeholder was sent to Terre Haute once and to Tulsa once, leading all Western league pitchers last season. Guy Sturdy, a first baseman, who played with Blaeholder at Tulsa last year and also with him for the Long Beach Shell Oils this past winter, was optioned to Tulsa again.

Colima, Thomas
Tangle Tonight

LOS ANGELES, April 19.—Bert Colima, the pride of Whittier, steps back into the big club main events tonight when he meets Tiger Thomas, colored 158-pounder at the Olympic.

Thomas is said to specialize in a terrific body attack which, if an actuality, may spell woe for Colima.

MANY FEATURES
SCHEDULED FOR THIRD CLASSIC

Harris May Match Vawter, Breeding in Mile, Bear
And Wykoff in Furlong

Orange county's third annual A. A. U. track and field meet will be conducted at Poly field here the afternoon of May 14, Graham Harris, Santa Ana junior college coach, who is in charge of arrangements, announced today.

Every public institution in the county, high school or college, will be urged to send athletic delegations here that day and special invitations will be issued to certain well known runners from other Southland schools.

All proceeds over actual expenses of holding the classic will go into the local junior college scholarship fund, a worthy cause that also has received assistance from various public spirited citizens and organizations.

Will Give Medal
Suitable medals will be presented to athletes finishing first, second or third in any event and it is probable that several special awards will be made.

Harris has aspirations to match Harold Breeding, the high school's sensational miler, with Bob Vawter, crack junior college runner, and Al Storms, bespectacled Hollywood high school ace.

A special 220 yard race between Harvey Bear, Poly track captain, and Frank Wykoff, Glendale's remarkable sprinter, also will be a feature if Harris has his way.

Veterans' Race Planned
All of these athletes will be available for competition May 14 as the prep season will be closed officially May 7, the day of the state meet at Modesto.

Another contest which Harris hopes to develop is a sprint, of probably not more than 100 yards, with any "old-timer" in this vicinity, who has been out of competition for five years, eligible.

Homer Chaffey, former Pomona college speedster, and "Bud" House, at one time the world's foremost low hurdler, both are local residents and have expressed a willingness to attempt a comeback for the benefit of the A. A. U. meet. Several other veterans are expected to be lured back into the running harness for this occasion and the race may turn out to be the "card" of the afternoon.

LOS ANGELES, April 19.—Bud Taylor has again silenced the "doubting Thomas" delegation who would disprove his claim to the bantamweight championship of the world.

His latest victory was a fifth round knockout of Young Nationalist, Filipino bantam, last night at Wrigley field in a bout that revived the tragic incidents that led to the death of Clever Sencio some months ago in Milwaukee.

Allowing Nationalista to make his big flury in the opening round, Taylor soon began unleashing his left and before the second round was well under way that scimitar cut, slashed, parried and ripped as probably no other portside hand in fistiana does.

In the fifth round, a short left to the body dropped Nationalista, who shaking his head, attempted to penetrate the fog. He was back on one knee before the 10 count, but the quick work of Referee Gilmore prevented needless punishment by raising Taylor's hand.

George Godfrey, weighing 226 pounds, knocked out Leon Chevalier, 209-pound Oakland negro in four rounds.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: Andrew Jackson

Sketches by Bessey
Synopsis By Braucher

His face as red as his flaming hair, young Jackson stood before the British officer who had demanded that he shine his boots. "Sir," he said proudly, "I demand the treatment of a prisoner of war!" The Briton's sword swished through the air, but the boy, throwing up his arm, got off with a scar that he bore all his life.

Andrew and his brother, Robert, tied with thongs, were taken to Camden and held in the filthy stockade where many died of disease.

Pleading with Lord Rawdon, Mrs. Jackson brought about an exchange of prisoners and took her two boys to her cabin home.

Here Robert died, but Andrew, built of tougher fiber, fought back to life. While aiding relatives in prison in Charleston, Mrs. Jackson fell ill of yellow fever and died, leaving Andrew alone in the world. The boy worked as a saddler. In 1784 he began the study of law at Salisbury, N. C. (Continued)

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The wind began to blow real wild and in a moment Scouty smiled. "This bumbershoot is not much good. 'I'm getting wet,' said he. Wee Clowny watched the rain and frowned, and very shortly turned around and shouted, 'If you think you're wet, my goodness, look at me!'

And Clowny was a dripping sight, and rather chilly Tinymite. The thunder shower had splashed about and drenched him through and through. Just then the blaring sun came out and stopped the rain, and with a shout, the bunch heard someone loudly yell, 'I'll tell you what we'll do. 'Let's all hide in that hay nearby, and hang our wet clothes out to dry. If we should run around this way we surely would catch cold.' Not one of them had much to say, but scampered to the stack of hay. And soon their clothes were dry because they did as they were told. They felt much better, goodness knows, and when the sun had dried their clothes, they all got dressed. Then Coppy said, 'I see a farmer's rig. Let's go and hop right on behind and take a ride. The man won't mind.' Guess what was in the wagon. 'Twas a funny little pig.

The farmer drove on down the road, much to the glee of all his load. Then Scouty shouted, 'Look ahead! A pretty little home. Let's jump right off and make a call. I want to see all that me can, wherever we may roam.'

Up in the home they met a lass who said, 'Come right out on the grass, and we will have a party, just as nice as nice can be.' Said Scouty, 'This is fine, I think. If you don't mind I'd like a drink.' So Polly put the kettle on and served them all some tea.

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS

Mrs. C. B.—The trouble with your skin need not come from your stomach, but there is a sluggish condition somewhere that causes your skin to be overworked to keep your system clear. Blackheads and whiteheads are enlarged pores clogged with secretions, and the skin is exposed so it takes up soil.

Daily warm baths all over, and softening of the impacts with oil or a cream, will clear the pores for a time; but your entire system must be functioning properly to overcome the tendency to enlarged and overworked pores.

Watch your diet and see if you balance it with enough fruit and green vegetables to offset the starches and sugar. If you are eating much meat, omit most of it. Practice on your diet, bathe daily and conclude the bath by using very cold water to shrink the pores again. When requesting a mailed reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope as a loose stamp may be lost, which is just what must have happened in your case.

Dorothy—You are at least 15 pounds under weight at 92 pounds, at 18 years of age with height of five feet, three inches. If you build up, your face will assume a different contour; in fact, it is the only way you will get rid of its peculiarity. With no fatty issue, muscles would be prominent. Drink one or two quarts of milk a day, or tablespoonful of olive oil three times a day. A pleasant way to take the oil is to take it in the same amount of grape juice, but any other fruit juice will do almost as well. Grape juice has such a lingering flavor that you do not taste the oil at all.

Mrs. G. A. N.—After adult years there is very little to be done to straighten bow legs, and if the ankles are large because the bones are large, you can do nothing to change them. Never wear very high heels as they make the ankles appear much larger because of the way the foot is pitched forward. You can massage fat away from the ankle but you cannot alter the shape of the bones.

A Constant Reader—Use cold water to tone the skin under the arms, or a mild astringent like witch hazel to help shrink the pores. You can have the druggist add a few drops of salicylic acid to about an ounce of bath power, and use that if there is any tendency to an odor. There should be no attempt to check the action of the skin except in cases where there is an excessive amount of perspiring.

W. H.—The brown spots are stains on the skin from the liver. Try bleaching them with cucumber juice, and improve the condition that causes them. The juice of a lemon in a glass of hot water every morning will help some people overcome a sluggish condition of the liver.

Queer Quirks of NATURE

SHE PUTS THE WORM IN THE HAZELNUT

Hazelnut Weevil

BY ARTHUR N. PACK
President, American Nature Ass'n.

Hazelnuts make a splendid ready-prepared baby food—at least so thinks this busy mother whose picture is shown here. Her babies thrive on it splendidly. You know that yourself if you ever have cracked a perfectly sound-looking hazelnut and found a plump white grub occupying a goodly portion of the interior, with part of the kernel still uneaten.

Mrs. Hazelnut Weevil, the mother of these soft little grubs, is a very business-like creature. She is equipped with an instrument perfectly adapted for her purposes as is a dentist's or a surgeon's instrument for their purposes.

When she is ready to lay her eggs she spies a hazelnut tree with tender little nuts in their green state. Then she brings into play this wonderful instrument of hers which, you will notice in the picture, projects from her head.

In the end of this is a tiny hook. With this she pecks a hole in the nut to the very center. She then lays an egg, which she carefully pokes into the hole she has made and goes on to the next nut.

The incision in the nut is so small and so delicately has the operation been performed that the tiny hole soon closes over and the nut continues to develop. The egg is also developing and presently when the nut is fully grown, the egg has hatched and the grub is busily devouring the sweet kernel. It stays there protected from harm and with plenty to eat until it is fully grown, when it gnaws a hole in the shell and drops to the ground.

Presently it wraps itself up in a silken cradle, or cocoon, where it sleeps for a time, finally to awaken, no more a white grub, but a hazelnut weevil itself, proudly bearing on its head the same long snout that has carried its fore-mothers into the hearts of countless millions of hazelnuts.

MENUS for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Cereal cooked with dates, cream, scrambled eggs with spinach, crisp whole wheat toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Casserole of turnips, cinnamon rolls, banana and orange salad, drop cakes, milk, tea.

DINNER—Roast chicken, giblet gravy, savory rice, French fried onions, curly endive with bacon dressing, graham rolls, pineapple puff, milk, coffee.

The casserole of turnips suggested in the luncheon menu is quite unusual and decidedly "tasty." The woman on a farm will particularly welcome the recipe since it uses in a novel manner one of the vegetables she has served frequently all winter. For her dried and powdered parsley and dried mushrooms can take the place of fresh ones.

Casserole of Turnips
Two cups turnips cut in small pieces, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 cups stock or water, 1 egg, 4 tablespoons chopped mushroom, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-3 teaspoon pepper.

The turnips should be cut in pieces about the size of a baby lima bean. Cook in boiling water for twenty minutes. Drain and put into a well buttered casserole. Melt butter, stir in flour and when bubbling slowly, add stock, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and remove from the fire. Add egg and stir rapidly until thoroughly mixed with sauce. Add mushrooms, parsley, onion juice, salt and pepper. Stir well and pour over turnips in casserole. Cover and place in a hot oven for fifteen minutes.

Serve from casserole.

COMMERCE AND BEAUTY

In the vision commerce sees
There's no place for maple trees.
Commerce dreams of ships and trains,
Poles and wires and water mains,
Buildings tall of stone and steel
And the drone of turning wheel,
Smoke of fires and crowded street,
Paved and smoothed for hurrying feet.

In the vision commerce sees
None is ever at his ease.
Brooks and rivers all appear Harnessed to a moving gear
And are measured every hour
By the kilowatt of power.
Hills are leveled so that roads
May be built for heavy loads.

In the vision commerce sees
There's no place for maple trees.
Beauty keeps the country lane
And the flowered window pane.
Beauty calls for hills and streams,
Spaces fit for idlers' dreams,
Quiet hours and skies of blue
Where there are no tasks to do.

On the streets where commerce thrives
Swift the pace the traffic drives.
When a city mightily grows
Something of her beauty goes,
Hot the sun, with little shade
On the avenues of trade,
Only villages can be Calm and beautiful to see.

THERE'S AN IMMUTABLE LAW THAT SAVES US

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

I had seen the richer sister display a diamond necklace brought from the safe deposit box and to be worn at a dinner that evening. I had seen the poorer sister wonder over the gorgeous house, remarking here and there on the additions of objects d'art that had been made in the intervening years since her last visit. Rugs from Arabia, Italian pottery, tapestries and ancient cartoons from France, ancient furniture of rare design.

There was no doubt that the house represented years of travel and a great deal of money. It was representative of one who had enjoyed life and its material things to the fullest.

The conversation had taken a personal turn. The poorer sister remarked that the old taupe velvet rug in her living room at home would have to be dyed or replaced, but she wasn't going to worry about it for awhile as she had other things on her mind that demanded her attention first. And she added unfortunately, that she was too tired to worry about anything any more.

The rich woman looked at her sharply. "Don't you think, my dear, that you are getting materialistic? That 'things' mean too much to you. Why worry about your house and what's in it? Having things isn't what makes happiness."

I was indignant and about to make a defensive remark for the other woman. It seemed so unfair. But something in the rich woman's tone caught me. Then I understood. The poorer woman was years younger. The other woman would have given her entire fortune for those years.

Life is strange! I knew that she had worked for years earning money to augment her husband's income to keep the family comfortable, educate the children and have a house instead of an apartment. She had done double duty as wife, mother and bread winner, and not in all those years had she had the thrills and enjoyment that must have been crowded into each month of the sister's life.

The seemingly sharp words of the richer woman may have been unfair. But they were not meant to be so. She was crying, "Count your blessings while you can. You still have youth!"

It was a whole sermon. When will we learn that there is a great law of compensation?

The WOMAN'S DAY

by Allene Sumner

Smoking for women is "unfortunate, but inevitable," according to Dean Mary Yost of Stanford University. Only recently both the student body and the faculty lifted the ban on women's smoking on the campus. The dean comments that for a few days the air was thick with smoke, but that pretty soon the girls tired of stale tobacco in their rooms, in the dining room, in the living rooms, and very willingly confined the practice to the open air. And there in an eggshell you have the tale of the entire folly of censorship in any form. Suppression means the thing you don't want. Freedom means that the thing you don't want will, generally, die a natural death.

Trials Marriage
We Anglo-Saxons think we're so smart, so know-it-allish. Our judges and writers and ministers have been dissecting the idea of "trial marriages," for instance, as though it was a very brand-new idea. Now we learn that the Tarahumara Indians, an athletic tribe of the Mexican Sierras, has 12-day trial marriages as a matter of course. This in itself will be enough to kill the "trial marriage" idea for those souls who condemn everything not of "American" origin—as if anything could be more "American" than these very Indians!

Just a Wife!
"Women folk don't amount to much," some men, many men, think. "Wives don't have nothin' to do. Anybody can do a little dab of housework." I'm not sure that Frank Kaman, of Cleveland, O., thought so, but if he ever did, he doesn't now. Mrs. Frank Kaman died. She hadn't been doing much, just keeping house for nine people. Her husband made around $35 a week. Now the home is breaking up. And now Mr. Kaman knows, if he didn't before, the plain economic value of a wife!

They Mend Dishes
Hundreds of thousands of women want to know ways to make money at home. They rather scorn the time-honored answer of "do the thing nearest at hand that you can do best," such as selling home-made cakes, water-coloring place cards, caring for children, or marketing pickles. A few years ago two sisters of Buffalo, Alice and Mary Doty, wanted to make extra money. They took inventory of self and remembered broken dishes had always started and amazed people. They advertised that they were in the dish-mending business. Today they restore heirlooms and fine china throughout a chain of states.

MARIONETTES WILL BE SEEN AS FUND HELP

Scholarship Treasury Will Be Swelled Through Shows Here on April 26

By RUTH ANN WALKER

SANTA ANA POLYTECHNIC HIGH SCHOOL, April 19.—The Jean Gros' French Marionettes, the largest company of its kind, is coming to Santa Ana, April 26, to present an afternoon and evening performance for the benefit of the scholarship fund.

This group of actors has only been in California a few times and it is considered a great privilege to be able to see them.

The marionettes are a group of figures, about four inches high, which are controlled by cords in such a manner that they appear to the audience as real lifelike actors. Eight scenes from the "Adventures of Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn" will be given by these miniature actors on the evening of April 26 at the Yost Spurgeon theater. The tickets will be 50c-75c-$1 and $1.50.

Many changes of scenery and costumes will be featured in these acts.

In the afternoon a matinee will be held for the younger folks, featuring the adventures of Uncle Wiggly, an old rabbit who is very familiar among the children. The tickets will be 25 and 50 cents.

Old Uncle Wiggly is controlled by 1000 cords from a secret platform above the stage. He seems almost real in his performances.

Throughout the two plays, 75 characters will be used, all controlled by cords and wires.

These two acts are being sponsored by the Orange county branch of University Women's Teachers for the benefit of the student loan fund of Poly high. Tickets may be obtained from the office.

Last year the fund was entirely used up, and to fill it again the Orange county branch of the University Women's Teachers has consented to bring these two acts. The fund is for the benefit of those students who have not sufficient funds to pay their tuition to college. The money is loaned out to those pupils on a note with a promise to pay back as soon as it is convenient.

The majority of the schools of California have adopted this feature which they find is a great benefit to the students. This gives every student a chance to receive a college education.

Paris Beggars Study Book On Modern Methods

PARIS, April 19.—Mendicancy is an art in France, and Gallia beggars have a "Manual for the Use of Beggars" to instruct them in the art.

The book, which includes a "sucker list" of good prospects, emerged from the pocket of a beggar when a judge admired his knowledge of humanity.

"Why, it's an art," exclaimed the beggar, drawing forth the textbook in explanation.

Most of the chapters are devoted to technical instructions, such as how to operate at baptisms, marriages, funerals, and the methods of attracting sympathetic attention. There is instruction in how to seem blind, simulation of certain ailments, faking of suicide attempts, and the concealment of legs or arms for displacement by false ones.

Due to the illness and absence of the home economics instructor at Tustin, the domestic science results have not yet been ascertained.

Kearny's Guide Dies Near Oasis At Age of 103

BANNING, Calif., April 19.—Capt. Juanito Razon Agua Delce Tuba, better known to California pioneers as "Fig Tree John," died recently at the Alamo reservation, near Ojai, Coachella valley. He had claimed he was 130 years old.

He was the Indian chief who guided a detachment of United States troops under the then Col. Stephen W. Kearny, on the latter's march in 1846 from Santa Fe to California, to participate in the war with Mexico. "Fig Tree John" joined Kearny's detachment late in November, 1846, when the troops encountered difficulty in crossing the desert west of the Colorado river. The animals had been without water for days, and many of them perished. The Indian led the detachment to Carrizo creek, and later guided them to the Warner's ranch region, which Kearny reached on Dec. 2, 1846. The weary Kearny troops went into battle with Andres Pico at San Pasqual, near San Diego, Dec. 6. It was the bloodiest fight of the conquest of California.

"Fig Tree John" was buried at the reservation. He was clad in an old blue uniform of the army, and over it a long coat with brass buttons. In his grave was placed his high black silk hat. Only one white man was permitted at the service. Although "Fig Tree John" had lived almost the entire span of life involved in the civilization of California, he had, until five years ago, refused to accept the Christian faith. Doubt that "Fig Tree John" was 130 years old had been expressed by residents of the region. These persons, however, estimated his age at 110. He was a Calumet and knew all of the traditions of the tribe.

VALENCIA ORANGE SHOW

The California citrus industry was first started in Los Angeles. The exposition was held where the Philharmonic auditorium now stands. As the attention of Los Angeles county was called elsewhere, it became apparent that the proper scene for staging such a citrus exposition as this would be in the territory where these products are raised.

San Bernardino began in a very small way to attract attention-wide attention to California, for it recognized the value of advertising the wonders of the state.

Anaheim, recognizing the value of the climate and products of Orange county, began to formulate plans for an exhibit. In the fall of 1920 a committee was appointed to devote its efforts and energies to the staging of a Valencia Orange show, in that the Valencia is typical of the wealth of the county.

The show was staged in May, 1921. The show was opened by President Harding over the long distance telephone. Rain during the days of the show was very unpleasant, but the exposition was a success. Every year the exhibits, which are of all descriptions, are better than those of the year before.

This year Queen Valencia will come from the city of Orange. One special evening will be devoted to the Queen and her court, at which time her court will present an elaborate program of entertainment.

The space for exhibits is being taken up very rapidly, and there is little space left. In the car department, there is very little ground that has not been taken. A large carnival has been secured and will afford a variety of amusements. This carnival is supposed to be one of the very best in the state.

A very tidy sum of money has been donated to the Orange show, which will help to make it successful, as well as artistic, if the people will advertise and support it. The newspapers have printed pictures and written articles that tell about the exposition, and they help to advertise. Besides the newspapers, the Pacific Electric, the telephone and telegraph companies have helped much in displaying placards.

The Valencia Orange show extends from May 19 to 29 inclusive and deserves every citizen's hearty support.

—Leone Nelson, Anaheim Union High School.

GRADES ARE WHAT YOU MAKE THEM

Every grader is heard the same complaint "that teacher isn't fair." If you get a good grade, are you so ready to make this statement? No. Then why show your inconsistency? A teacher is human. If she dislikes you, you have given her cause to do so. Only by showing yourself a real student can you rise in her estimation. Work hard. Strive to learn something. A teacher does not make your grades. You do!

The next time you say "a teacher isn't fair," think it over. Isn't it rather that you aren't fair with yourself?

—Virginia Viau, Tustin Union High School.

FIND HONEST GOLFER

ATLANTIC CITY, April 19.—Diogenes may now put out the lantern. An honest golfer has been discovered. He admits he is no better than when he started the game. He is none other than Al Smith, who is resting here with neuritis. "I don't take the game seriously anyhow," he explains.

GIRLS TO VIE FOR HONORS IN ORATORY MEET

By RUTH ANN WALKER

SANTA ANA POLYTECHNIC HIGH SCHOOL, April 19.—Determination of the Santa Ana high school representative in the county branch of the National Oratorical Contest will be made next Monday, when the contestants in this school deliver their orations the sixth period in the school auditorium.

Among those who will participate in the school contest are included Mildred Crowe, Ramona Lindgren, and Ellen Snelley. Although no boys will contest for honors this year, this doesn't darken the prospects of another victory for the schools representative as this aggregation includes a very capable group of orators.

The judges for the occasion will be Terry Stephenson, Rev. O. Scott McFarland and Mrs. Robert Northcross. Contestants will be judged 50 percent on composition and 50 percent on delivery.

A beautiful silver loving cup will be presented to the winner by William Hanley, business manager of the Santa Ana Register. The winner's name will be engraved upon it and the cup will be kept in the school trophy case to inspire interest in future contests. The names of the winners of future contests and their date will also be engraved on the cup.

Not all of the classes will be dismissed to witness the contest but the affair will be restricted to a number of study halls and English classes.

CHANGE PLAN OF ENGLISH CLASSES

SANTA ANA POLYTECHNIC HIGH SCHOOL, April 19.—A new plan of dividing the English three semester, one-quarter of literature and composition and one-quarter of oral English, is now being used in Santa Ana high school.

Mr. Wilkinson teaches oral English to each English three class for one-quarter and Mr. Bradshaw instructs the sophomores in literature and composition. The instructors exchange classes at the end of the quarter.

In previous years one day of each week during the semester was given to the study of oral English. The present course in literature and composition includes composition on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week and literature on Thursday and Friday.

The fundamentals of composition, narration, exposition, description and lettering are studied in the first part of the week. On Thursday and Friday modern prose and poetry as treated by Mr. Ashman are discussed and occasionally dramatized.

The course in oral English stresses the correct use of the English language in public. Collateral to this such points as parliamentary law, reading, organization of a club or society are given consideration. One of the most salient features of the course is the emphasis on American ideals.

Women Drivers In Paris Held Best

PARIS, April 19.—Man, not woman, appears to be the dangerous automobile driver in France. Or else her powers of persuasion have much more effect on the police.

Seven out of every 100 cars in Paris are driven by women, but there are only three women involved in every 100 fines imposed by the police.

Possibly the Parisian police smile and forget more often when women offend the traffic rules than they do when men are at fault.

Possibly, also, say some friendly souls, women really drive more carefully, act more quickly and take the law more seriously.

FRESHMEN TELL OF ADVENTURES ON PICNIC DAY

By CORDELIA COLE

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 19.—Fifty freshmen, chaperoned by Miss Hield, Miss Macomber and Mr. Means, who went on their second class picnic of the year to Fairmont Park, Riverside, Saturday, April 9, had some unusual experiences to relate to the upper-classes. When the two Pierce-Arrows, driven by Mr. Means and Mr. Parry, were nearing Corona, the occupants of a large sedan stopped the first bus and questioned the driver as to their destination and where they were from. The men introduced themselves as "Times" representatives, and took pictures of the two buses. The pictures will be printed in the Times in the near future. It is rumored that the freshmen are quite "puffed up" over this happening, as no other class has had quite the same experience.

Another unusual feature of the day was Don Plumb's offer to Horace Sears of a dollar, if Horace would chew seven packages of gum at once! Horace did. After getting the gum in his mouth, he chewed it for two minutes, and observers state that the dollar was well earned.

The day was chilly and the swimmers found the plunge cold. Games and hiking occupied the picnic hours.

The box lunches that had first been decided upon did not appeal to the boys, who were afraid that there would not be enough to eat. A regular picnic lunch was taken and the main "dish" was the individual tamales. A race between the students for champion "tamale-eater" was held, but the winner is not known.

The voting created quite a bit of excitement as the question was so evenly divided. All committees were in favor of white dresses and black shoes, but their idea was tossed to the four winds when the majority of girls held loyal to the summer hues.

Baccalaureate maintained very little debate as only seven girls desired to don the majestic robes. The 65 girls decided upon sport dresses, coats and hats. The girls in every case favored light shoes.

It is understood that the dresses are to be semi-sport or tailored. Lace and ruffles are to be entirely forgotten, as the cost of the material is to be kept in mind.

A meeting of the graduating girls is to be held soon to discuss the dresses further, as to length and style.

Those working on the dress committee are Lucile Lovell, chairman, Marjorie Keeler, Eleanor Ralston, Jean Nicholson, and Gayle Baldwin. A flower committee will be appointed later.

Many rosters accompanied the debaters from Alhambra to the recent word battle between the Moors and Saints. The representatives from Alhambra were entertained at a student body reception dinner given by the Forum club.

Miss Lillian Bollinger, Alhambra coach, says in a letter to Mr. Stewart, "Your courtesies which were extended to us the night of April 1 were so lovely that the students who participated in the debate and their rosters are still talking about Santa Ana's hospitality."

The coaches and students of Alhambra are happy over the pleasant relations that now exist between their school and Santa Ana.

King's Yacht to Lose Four Feet From Its Masts

LONDON, April 19.—Four feet will be cut from the mast of King George's yacht, Britannia, in accordance with a recent ruling of the Yacht Racing association.

Major Philip Hunkle, the king's yachting adviser in chief, in making this announcement said a dinner, said the Yacht Racing association's decision was in the measurement of sail areas. The big classes up to now had never been measured.

Major Hunkle said yachting for most classes was going to be very good this summer.

"Another new feature," he continued, "will be developed by the Prince of Wales giving a cup for competition by dinghies. It will result in a very large development in ownership of that small class. I am told there are to be 50 of these boats starting at Cowes this year and I am rather anticipating some exciting times."

Use Violet Rays On French Canines

PARIS, April 19.—Violet rays and electric dryers are installed in a luxurious dog and cat hospital opened for the pets of the rich.

The hospital has an operating room, bath room, private quarters for the animals whose owners can afford them and a "charity ward" for the less aristocratic pets of the poor.

"Autographed" photographs of expensive patients hang on the office wall. The dedications, "To my kind doctor," "Tom, to his saviors," "Homage and Gratitude—Pof," and so on, are displayed in the large angular writing affected just now by many of the very wealthy women of Paris.

MORE CHURCH-GOERS

NEW YORK, April 19.—More than 47 and one-half million Americans go to church. The annual religious census of the Christian Herald shows that number as members of congregations last year. There was an increase of 489,556 over 1925.

Decide Colors Of Dresses For Girl Graduates

By VIVYENNE OLDFIELD

SANTA ANA POLYTECHNIC HIGH SCHOOL, April 19.—The decision of the senior girls has finally been made. As a change from last year the girls will trip forth in the latest pastels when given their diplomas.

Due to a mistake in the announcements about the room number in which the voting was to take place, about one half of the girls turned out. However, Tuesday settled the argument.

The voting created quite a bit of excitement as the question was so evenly divided. All committees were in favor of white dresses and black shoes, but their idea was tossed to the four winds when the majority of girls held loyal to the summer hues.

Baccalaureate maintained very little debate as only seven girls desired to don the majestic robes. The 65 girls decided upon sport dresses, coats and hats. The girls in every case favored light shoes.

Those working on the dress committee are Lucile Lovell, chairman, Marjorie Keeler, Eleanor Ralston, Jean Nicholson, and Gayle Baldwin. A flower committee will be appointed later.

Dubuque Papers Combine Forces To Cut Expenses

DUBUQUE, Ia., April 19.—The Dubuque (Ia.) Telegraph-Herald and Dubuque Times-Journal are consolidated. The new newspaper is known as the Telegraph-Herald and Times-Journal and will be issued from the plant of the Telegraph-Herald. Continual rising costs of producing newspapers was given as the reason for the consolidation by F. W. Woodward, publisher of the Telegraph-Herald. Mr. Woodward will continue to serve in the capacity of publisher of the newspaper.

The consolidated newspaper is being served by three day leased wires.

The new paper will print both afternoon and morning editions, starting within a week. Previous to the consolidation the Dubuque newspapers published afternoon editions only.

All the equipment of the Times-Journal was taken over. The majority of the members of the editorial staff of the Times-Journal will be retained by the new newspaper.

Wild Flowers Inspire Tustin Biology Teacher

By LOUISE GRISET

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, April 19.—"It seemed as we first caught a glimpse of the flowers from the Ridge route, that the straight road cut the flower beds in two. On one side of the road was a carpet of blue, and on the other, one of pink," said Mrs. Brubaker, biology instructor of Tustin high school, in describing her trip, April 13, to the wild flower fields on the other side of the Ridge route.

"There were 20,000 acres of clover, lupine, gilia, daisies, and poppies which have been in blossom for the last two or three weeks. It just made me want to stay there forever," ended Mrs. Brubaker.

Dr. W. L. Jepson, authority on California wild flowers, says of the field, "I have never seen flowers as beautiful as these this year."

Those critics of modern youth, who picture every high school girl as a petting party expert and every high school boy as a bottle totin' dirty story specialist, may well look over the columns of the Junior Register to find their answer. In those columns one will find a true reflection of life in Orange county high schools.

The modern high school is a complete education factory, from fencing to auto mechanics. These many and varied topics provide every student with an outlet for his individual taste. These attitudes have been given full range in the stories printed in the Junior Register.

In the east there have been "rebellions" of students against faculty control; charges of control by Soviet Russia have been heard. No such a thing has ever been heard of in Orange county and probably never will. Orange county high school students are too busy winning football games, too busy finishing standing lamps, too busy practicing Beethoven, too busy studying the construction of modern homes to give much thought to Lenin, Marx, Brann, Paine, Ingersoll and their philosophies.

If they hear dirty stories their elders are responsible. If their morals are undermined usually an adult can be discovered as the reason.

Leave Orange county high school students alone and they will make as good citizens as has ever resulted from a rising generation.

After all youth is the most precious possession one can have. Combine it with an all-consuming love for the beautiful in life and you have the perfect equation. Most loud mouths are adults gone sour as the days fly by.

And so next week the Junior Register winners will be announced. They will represent the flower of Orange county young manhood and young womanhood. The Junior Register will be proud of them and the readers of this paper will watch them in their future life.

Ship ahoy! —E. M. H. Jr.

There Will Be Love Scenes

Of course, the love scenes will be there—a Gilbert film would not be complete without them. But it will be a rough, tough Romeo that is flashed on the silver sheet.

Naturally, at the end of the story, he decides to go straight for the love of the "girl." The censors wouldn't stand for anything else.

"I am very enthusiastic about 'Twelve Miles Out,'" Gilbert says. "It gives me a chance to be a real he-man. Most of the picture will be filmed in the open and very little make-up will be required. I am cast as a tough guy who would shoot to kill and isn't afraid of being killed."

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer officials haven't yet selected Gilbert's leading lady for this film. One thing is certain—Greta Garbo, who was such a sensation in his last picture, won't be the girl.

FULL SCHEDULE ARRANGED FOR Y. M. C. A. SPEAKER

A busy schedule is planned Thursday for Harry D. Anderson, the California Y. M. C. A. worker who was ordered out of Russia last fall by the soviet authorities, and who is to speak in this city on that one day. Anderson is to speak at the high school assembly at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, and at the Lions club at noon.

His principal address will be given Thursday evening, at the Y. M. C. A. at which time he will relate his personal experiences in educational work in Russia, and the events leading up to his expulsion from the country.

The meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be a dinner meeting, starting at 6:30 o'clock promptly, and it will be concluded in time for those who wish to attend the P. T. A. concert at the high school by Cadman and Murray to get away for that purpose. The dinner meeting at the Y. M. C. A. is open to both men and women, but those who expect to attend are requested to make reservations in advance for the dinner.

PARENT TEACHERS

Frances E. Willard

The Frances E. Willard P. T. A. met Thursday, April 14, for the regular monthly meeting. A short musical program was given by pupils of the school and was much enjoyed. Maynard Workman sang "Mother Macree," and Edward Farnsworth played a saxophone solo. Both of the boys were accompanied at the piano by Leona James. Nadine Carmack recited a selection, "Aunt Cornelia Cry No More."

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to business and there were many things of importance to discuss. Money was allowed from the treasury to help pay for glasses for a needy child in one of the outlying schools. Mrs. Spangler brought up the request for aid in the county health camp, as all the associations are doing. Mrs. Hatcher spoke of the Marionette play to be given soon for the benefit of the college scholarship fund.

The association voted to have a candy sale at the Cadman concert to be given next week at the high school. All members are urged to have their donation, a plate or box of candy, at the junior high school Wednesday, so that it may be sacked and taken down for the sale. This sale, it is hoped, will help replenish the treasury which is rather low. Plans were also discussed concerning entertainment for the graduating class.

The meeting was adjourned to enjoy a social hour and refreshments which were served by Mesdames Gray and Fine.

Lowell

The Lowell school orchestra opened the program of the P. T. A. of that school at its last meeting, with several numbers. Mr. Mustel, instructor and leader, urged mothers to attend orchestra classes as often as possible in order that they might help the children carry out the suggestions for home practice.

The school choir club, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Parslow, sang two delightful songs.

Mrs. Amelia Meagher gave a brief talk about plans for the children's health camp situated near Orange County park, which will open immediately after school closes, for the purpose of making strong bodies out of weak ones.

A splendid talk was given by Miss Margaret Kuhl, school nurse, on health habits for the pre-school child. She said that a mother could not begin too early in the life of her child to teach that child good habits. Her talk was interesting and helpful.

The following women were elected to fill offices next year: Mrs. T. F. Cruzen, president; Mrs. Elwin Gammell, vice president; Mrs. Lewis, second vice president; Mrs. H. H. Allemen, treasurer; Mrs. G. Shunfelt, financial secretary; Miss Ruth Langley, secretary; Mrs. C. C. Stewart, parliamentarian; and Mrs. A. H. Nielson, auditor.

Would you like to go into business for yourself? Where you will not have to invest any money. All required is pleasing personality, a car, and a willingness to work. Call this evening at 2135 Greenleaf St., between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Ted Craig, past commander of Brea post, is general chairman of the project, with Frank Mason, commander of the post, as secretary.

HUBBY FEARS WIFE, SO SEEKS DIVORCE

W. M. Sultzer, of Fullerton, professes to be in fear of his life. He has the impression that his wife, Amanda Sultzer, holds his life. This impression seems to be based on an alleged gesture by Mrs. Sultzer, who stabbed her husband in the breast with an ice pick, he claims. Also, he avers, she left no doubt that her purpose was more serious than playful. She told him plainly that she was going to kill him. She had told him so before. He believes her, it is evident from his divorce suit, just filed in superior court.

The Sultzers were married in Cleveland, in 1918. They separated April 7, this year, when the ice pick was brought into play. Attorney Guss Hagenstein, of Fullerton, is counsel for the husband.

PROPOSED TAX INCREASE AT NEWPORT HIT

NEWPORT BEACH, April 19.—A letter signed by 240 business men of Newport Beach and Balboa was presented to city trustees last night asking the trustees not to raise the city business license from $15 per year to $20 per month. A petition was presented a few weeks ago by a local laundry, asking that the city license be raised.

The protest filed last night was referred to the committee of trustees having the license matter in charge. The proposed increase asked by the laundry was for the purpose of keeping out business enterprises which enter the city during the summer months, it was said. The laundry owners declared that local concerns which remain here the year round are entitled to protection. The committee investigating the matter will probably make recommendations at the next meeting of the trustees.

Thermon Means, of Santa Ana, and John Roehle, of Newport Beach, were low bidders on the new fire hall here. Means submitted a bid of $1843 and Roehle a bid of $1850. A low bid of $1788, submitted by Charles E. Goff, was thrown out because no bond accompanied it. Several other bids were submitted. No decision was reached on the bids, which were held over for one week.

An ordinance prohibiting the use of more than two fishing poles by one person at one time on the piers at Newport Beach and Balboa was read for the first time last night.

Plans and specifications for an ornamental light system along the coast highway through Corona Del Mar were ordered by the trustees. Clinton B. McElheney, of Monterey, submitted an application for the position of fire chief. The letter was filed.

Plans for a new fire alarm system, proposed by Frank Crocker, new chief of the fire department, were referred to a special committee, authorized to act.

A permit for an amusement parlor was granted to George K. Noland, the parlor is to be housed at 105 Main street, Balboa.

A petition for a crossing from Central avenue to the beach was asked by citizens near Orange avenue. The trustees authorized the city clerk to start negotiations with the Pacific Electric and Southern Pacific companies to get the crossing.

A permit giving George Hem Coach permission to sell grape punch from wagon was refused. The trustees declared that if Coach wished to sell grape punch in Newport Beach he would have to find a permanent location and go into business.

Is a punch board a game? George K. Noland, of Balboa, says that a punch board can be classified as a game under the city ordinance now in effect and he proposes to push a vigorous campaign against the punch boards.

Noland's grievance grew last night when he appeared before city trustees to ask for a license for an amusement parlor. Noland wanted to place several games in his parlor. Trustees informed him that he would be required to pay the city $50 per year for each game.

He declared the punch boards were as much games of chance as were the game he proposed placing in his amusement parlor.

Seal Beach Oil Wells Deepened

SEAL BEACH, April 19.—The Marland Oil company expects to have its Bixby No. 7 in the east-east part of the Seal Beach field on production today in the Selover zone, according to field reports. The well was swabbing yesterday, and, according to drillers, gave every indication of making a profitable producer. Bottom of the well is at 4750 feet.

Bixby No. 7 originally was on production in the Bixby zone, which is rather thin in that particular location, and the well's output was small and eventually turned to water. It is an offset to the Standard Oil company's San Gabriel No. 1 which failed to give production in the Bixby zone, and is getting about 500 barrels per day from the deeper sand.

The Marland Oil company is deepening its Bixby No. 8 in the Seal Beach field to get a greater penetration of the Bixby zone, and bolster up the production of this well, according to reports. This is an offset to the Associated Oil company's Bryant No. 1 well, which found the Bixby zone higher in the hole than any other well in the field.

Seal Beach operators have had considerable success in deepening wells in the Bixby zone where the wells are located near the top of the structure. The Associated tried it with Bryant No. 2, and is getting about 2000 barrels a day, and the Marland is getting about 1900 barrels a day from its Bixby No. 10, which is also a deepened Bixby zone well.

Grove Paper's New Home Ready

GARDEN GROVE, April 19.—The new home of the Garden Grove News, which was started about two weeks ago, is now ready for occupancy. The equipment was moved into the new building and installed on Saturday, although it will take several days to get everything organized and running smoothly again.

Placentia In Road Celebration

PLACENTIA, April 19.—Ceremonies celebrating the commencement of a $400,000 road paving program with county officials and interested citizens of Placentia in the leading roles, took place this afternoon.

William Schumacher, of Buena Park, chairman of the board of supervisors, and other members of the board were the guests of honor.

The hosts for the occasion were the officers of the chamber of commerce, headed by A. S. Bradford, president. The local board of trustees, headed by H. O. Easton, president, were in attendance.

IMPROVEMENT OF BAY LAND SOUGHT

NEWPORT BEACH, April 19.—Permission to make improvements valued at $150,000 was asked last night of city trustees by the Realty Investigation syndicate, which claims to hold title to tide lands in the city channel leading from Balboa to Newport Beach.

The land is composed of about four acres which are in reedy small islands in the bay. The syndicate seeks permission to erect retaining walls about the property and also permission to fill it in.

The communication was referred to City Attorney Clyde Bishop. Considerable controversy has been held over the matter. Recently the real estate syndicate offered the land to the city for $40,000. The city refused the offer. Bishop last night expressed the opinion that the company might not hold the legal title to the property. He declared that he believed the grant had been made to the syndicate after Newport Beach had become a city, and pointed out that if that were true, the state did not have the right to grant the tide lands to any individual or corporation.

Hits Scoffers Of Constitution

FULLERTON, April 19.—Ralph C. Ipsell, of Bell, gave an interesting talk to the members of the Fullerton Kiwanis club at their weekly luncheon yesterday noon at McFarland's cafe. In a very clever way he attacked people who, at one moment, salute the flag, and then turn around and scoff at the constitution.

The address also covered the general scope of activities in the Kiwanis organization, with stress placed upon the educational program.

The eyes of the world are focused on the acts of the people of the United States, and, as a result, the need for more tolerance and generosity is evident, he declared.

An appeal was made by Mayor H. H. Crooke and Fire Chief Roy R. Davis urging that all Kiwanians support the fire prevention campaign which is being conducted in Fullerton in connection with clean-up week.

J. C. Gilbert was received as a new member in the club, the change being delivered by Dr. Jesse Chilton.

Jess Hardy, Kiwanis president, was elected to be the club's delegate to the national Kiwanis convention to be held at Memphis, Tenn., June 10.

H. G. Maxwell, trustee, had submitted Hardy's recommendation from the board of directors prior to the action by the body.

CLUB MOTHER GRATEFUL. COSTA MESA, April 19.—Editor Register: I was sorry to be absent at the anniversary of the Friday Afternoon club of Costa Mesa, but want to express my appreciation of the wonderful achievement of the members in the three years since they started the club-house.

As the club mother of these 100 children, I am justly proud. I am not like the "old woman who lived in a shoe and had so many children she did not know what to do." My children are all so industrious that they have not only provided a very commodious house to live in, but can accommodate outside families of other organizations.

I will be pardoned, I am sure, if I say some flattering things about my children. They are all so good to me. They never quarrel with each other, they are all so happy. All work harmoniously together. My daughter whom we call the president, is a most capable manager of this large household, and keeps the machinery running smoothly in all its departments. And I must speak of another daughter, the treasurer. I doubt if we could have reached this third milestone with such flying colors, if it had not been for the watchful eye ever alert to see that we did not indulge in any undue extravagance or forget that the interest and taxes must be paid, but always ready to give a helping hand with money when required.

I am sure we will enter on our new year with hope and courage, and soon have a new kitchen well equipped, to be able to carry on the work of providing for the diverse needs we hope to have for our Chamber of Commerce, Lido Club, etc.

Sincerely,
DR. M. B. ARMSTRONG,
Club Mother

TWO MACHINES PURCHASED BY H. B. TRUSTEES

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 19.—Purchase of a six-cylinder roadster for the engineering department and a four-cylinder touring car for the police department, was approved last night by the board of trustees on bids submitted several weeks ago. The purchase price for the two was $2350. Two old cars to be traded in on the new vehicles were valued at $400 by the dealers from whom the new machines were purchased.

A contract with the Crude Oil Cleaning company to remove oil from a city sump was ratified. The terms of the contract make it possible for the city to realize approximately $25 a day from the disposal of the oil.

The sewage disposal plant having been destroyed by fire, the city engineer was authorized to proceed with the construction of another.

An ordinance making the use of the city auditorium free to civic, political, social or other organization desiring to use it without an idea to gain, and fixing the rates for the use of the hall by organizations wishing to make a profit therefrom, was passed by the board. All organizations wishing to use the hall for gain will have to pay $25 per day rental for the first two days and $40 per day thereafter. A charge of $5 for dishwashing was included to those who use the hall without charge.

Because they believed the figures submitted by bidders to be too low for efficient service, the board rejected all bids for trash disposal. The board also desires to control the disposition of the rubbish. It was said by members of the body.

The city clerk, attorney and treasurer were named as a committee to investigate various bonds with power to act in the purchase of $55,000 worth of bonds.

Upon application of the street superintendent, it was voted to purchase 235 lamp post flags to supplement the supply now on hand.

Because the police force would have to be augmented by one or two more officers if the proposed day per week off for each man was put into effect, the board again refused to pass a motion that the vacation period each week for each officer be allowed. It was brought out in the discussion of the proposition that the trustees favored the holiday, but that the necessity of hiring another officer could not be understood, as Huntington Beach, with 11 police department employees has a representative for slightly more than every 1000 of the town's population. That this representation is much more than the nearest competitor in Orange county has, was the assertion of members of the board.

Receipts in Judge Warner's court yesterday totaled $1200.

TWO GIVEN FINES IN BEACH COURT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 19.—Two men paid fines of $100 each when they appeared before City Recorder C. W. Warner yesterday on charges of being intoxicated. Bail was set at $200 each, which neither was able to furnish. They are being held in jail, pending their trials.

J. W. Thompson, 29, of Fullerton, and A. L. Cole, 34, of this city, pleaded not guilty to charges of reckless driving when they were brought before City Recorder Warner. Bail was set at $250 for each of the men. Neither was able to secure the money. Officers closed up a lunch stand belonging to Cole Saturday night.

BREA, April 19.—After delays occasioned by the recent rainy weather, activities have been resumed by the Brea Legion Rifle club, following the arrival of rifles, targets and other equipment sent by the war department. An outdoor barbecue is planned soon, when the new range will be opened to the public. The range is located in Tonner canyon, a branch of Brea canyon, and is said by experts to be one of the finest from a topographical standpoint of any in the country. The official charter, received some time ago, occupies a place of prominence in the Legion hall, awaiting its hanging in the cabin which is to be built on the range.

Plans were discussed relative to a pigeon race to be held by the Southern California Pigeon Racers' association, which includes the clubs from Orange county, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Ontario, Hollywood and various other cities.

The records of the leading birds entered were as follows:

C. C. Clark, Fullerton, 1379.71 yards per minute; A. Collins, Anaheim, 1322.66; G. Collins, Anaheim, 1311.90; John Jacobs, Santa Ana, 1310.00; H. W. McCullough, Santa Ana, 1248.05; W. C. Hoskins, Fullerton, 1238.83; R. A. Marsden, Fullerton, 1232.75; A. S. Redfern, Fullerton, 1168.50; E. Jones, Yorba Linda, 1168.50; and Howard Bean, Anaheim, 1119.00.

Clark Pigeon Winner of Race

FULLERTON, April 19.—The prize-winning pigeon owned by Charles C. Clark, of Fullerton, was the winner in the pigeon race held last Saturday, when pigeons owned by Orange county men flew from Sandberg's on the Ridge route to their home lofts. A check-up was made Saturday night at the home of W. C. Hoskins, 635 West Santa Fe avenue, Fullerton, at which time the winner was declared.

As a result Clark received 50 per cent of the award formed by pigeon fanciers from Orange county. A. Collins, of Anaheim, received 30 per cent of the award as his bird won second place, and G. Collins, also of Anaheim, received 20 per cent, his bird winning third place.

YORBA LINDA ORANGES SENT TO ROTTERDAM

YORBA LINDA, April 19.—The Foothill Groves packing house here holds the distinction of being the first local association to put Yorba Linda valencia oranges on the rails this season.

The initial valencia shipment from the Yorba Linda district left the packing house last week for Rotterdam, Holland, and other European points.

The oranges were of excellent quality, according to L. L. Fisher, manager of the house.

LOS ALAMITOS GET NEW BUILDING

LOS ALAMITOS, April 19.—Mrs. Kate Crowley, of Los Angeles, has purchased a 130-foot boulevard lot in Los Alamitos and has announced her intention of building a brick business block here in the near future. It is believed this will be another great step for Los Alamitos from a commercial standpoint.

Four new business firms have located here within a period of less than six months. These include a garage, a grocery and market, a feed store and a drug store.

Fines Increase So H. B. Recorder Is Given Raise

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 19.—Having submitted reports showing an increase in the city's revenue through the recorder's court of approximately 70 per cent in the past two months, C. W. Warner, recorder, today was in a way to reaping the reward of the increasing business done in his department.

For the third time within the past few weeks, Recorder Warner's salary is to receive a boost. An ordinance introduced at the meeting of the board of trustees last night and passed for first reading will make the monthly stipend of the recorder $200. The original salary of Recorder Warner was $75 per month. The board raised it to $125 per month. Not long ago, the board again raised Warner's salary $50, making it $175 per month. The new rate will go into effect as soon as the ordinance has been passed for final reading.

Receipts in Judge Warner's court yesterday totaled $1200.

H. B. Burglar Secures Book Fines

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 19.—Fines for overdue books were collected by an enterprising burglar, who last night ransacked the local public library. Entrance was gained to the library through a basement window. Approximately $10 in book fines was taken, according to a report at the police station.

Police believe the same burglar entered the Cusolito grocery store in the business district and escaped with about $7 in cash last night. Entrance was gained to the grocery store through a rear window.

SUNSET WILDCAT LACKS OIL SAND

SUNSET BEACH, April 19.—The General Petroleum corporation has reached a depth of 5070 feet in its Lomita No. 1 wildcat well at Sunset Beach, without showings, according to field reports. Other operations are taking more interest in the area as the hope for oil in the Lomita well dwindles as the depth grows greater. The well was drilled on the theory that another structure should be found beneath Huntington Beach and Seal Beach, both the acreage around the Lomita well is held by the General Petroleum and Marland companies.

Operators who think the theory of an intervening structure is tenable are picking up other acreage in other parts of the district, and it is not improbable that other wildcats will be drilled if the Lomita turns out to be a dry hole.

Many Present At Easter Service In Westminster

WESTMINSTER, April 19.—For Easter services in the Presbyterian church here the entire building was thrown open for the large congregation which gathered at the Sunday school hour, when the children presented a pleasing program.

For the Sunday school program a number of songs were given by the primary classes, and exercises by the little folk were part of the program. Recitations were given by Luella Baxter and Ellen Edwards, Virginia Turpin, Mrs. Charles Walton, class, Helen McCoy, Vivian Weld, Mrs. J. A. Murdy, for Mr. Byram's class, and Margaret Basse. Scripture was read by Frank Eastwood and a violin duet was rendered by Anne and Raymond McCordia. There were several songs by Mrs. James R. Schieber's class, Mrs. Baxter's class, Mrs. G. Francis' class, solos by Ruth Melvin and Merle Parr. The little folks were given Easter gifts at the close of the program.

The impressive church service, the following people were welcomed into the church membership: Mr. and Mrs. Groves, Mr. and Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Chester Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walton and Malcolm and Ralph Edward, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Rueben Edward and Joyce Elaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Campbell, were baptized by the pastor, the Rev. R. A. Weld. Mr. Foster also was baptized.

The program for Sunday school was in charge of Mr. Ralph Baxter and Mrs. E. W. Bould, assisted by Mrs. Herman Thompson, Mrs. Walton and Mrs. R. A. Weld.

NEWS FROM ORANGE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

OFFICERS OF WOMAN'S CLUB SELECTED SOON

ORANGE, April 19.—Members of the Woman's club will ballot on new officers at the next meeting. It was decided at the meeting held yesterday in the clubhouse. A nominating committee was appointed, numbering the following as its members: Mrs. Walter Pixley, Mrs. Clyde Watson, Mrs. Ray Howell, Mrs. F. P. Higgins and Mrs. C. L. Benson.

The new list of executives, when elected, will be installed at a succeeding meeting, but will not assume active leadership in the final meeting of the year before the vacation months.

Yesterday's session was in the nature of a reciprocity tea at which the guests of honor were county federation officials and presidents of other clubs in the county. Mrs. A. P. Nelson, county president, introduced the guests. A musical program was given by Ysabel Bowen, of Los Angeles, assisted by Frances Brockett Kellogg. The artists were obtained for the occasion by Miss Sue Scarratt and were presented to the gathering by Mrs. F. L. Clayton, program chairman. Miss Bowen is a concert vocalist and Miss Kellogg a pianist. Several groups of songs in Spanish and English were sung by Miss Bowen, accompanied by Miss Kellogg. Each gave solos.

Community singing conducted by Mrs. Albert Rohrs and Mrs. Will Martin opened the session.

An exhibit of posters made by Orange high school, intermediate and grammar school children calling to mind the planting and conservation of shrubbery and trees was displayed in the clubrooms. A selection of the best ones will be made and an exhibit at the county convention, April 22, arranged. Mrs. Kellogg, county chairman on shrubbery and trees, stated that the idea of the posters was to impress both children and adults with the need for planting and conserving shrubs and trees. Miss Mary Hawkins, local chairman, arranged the exhibit.

Notices were given the club members calling attention to the following events: National Education week program in high school auditorium on April 23, sponsored by the local Masonic lodge; Santa Ana Ebell club garden party and bazaar April 21 and 22; Marionette shows in Santa Ana under the auspices of the University club, April 23; Queen Valencia's court pageant to be held in the plaza May 3 and 4.

Miss Kate Hubbard was named to the endowment fund, started by the third economics section recently with Mrs. A. H. Halleck's name.

A food sale was conducted in the lobby of the building at the close of the meeting by the third economics section with Mrs. A. H. Halleck's name.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Sipherd is survived by five sons, Edwin and Howard, of Orange; R. J. Sipherd, of Long Beach; A. E. Sipherd, of Evanston, Ill., and L. W. Sipherd, of Creston, Iowa; two sisters, Mrs. Iowla Sipherd and Mrs. Jennie B. Drew, of Orange; two brothers, D. O. Jennings, of Newark, Okla., and S. C. Jennings Jr., of Des Moines, Iowa.

EVENING SALUTATION

Begin each morning by resolving to find something in the day to enjoy. Happiness must come from within, just as there must be a musical ear to enjoy music.—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

THROUGH THE STATE SENATE

Assembly bill No. 478 has passed the state senate, and now is in the hands of Governor Young for his signature. This is the measure that provides a method by which cities of the fifth class, including Santa Ana, Ventura and one or two other cities in California, may have a city manager without having to adopt a new city charter. It also provides a way whereby any city of the fifth class that has adopted the city manager system can very easily cut loose from it in case it proves unsuited to local conditions. The bill contains a provision for raising a city tax rate limit from $1 to $1.25. The act, however, is so well safeguarded that a raise in the rate limit is not at all likely excepting on pressing need.

This measure is one in which Santa Ana has long been interested. It was drawn up as the result of the failure of the voters of Santa Ana to adopt any of the charters that have been submitted to them in years past. Each of the charters submitted had the city manager form of government as its central feature. Each of the charters was defeated because of objections to various minor features in it and because of the major objection that Santa Ana had not proceeded under the thoroughly adjudicated state laws for cities of the fifth class rather than cast its lot with a charter that was untried in law and that might be full of pitfalls.

Leaders in favor of a new charter and leaders opposed to each of the charters submitted got together in drawing up the bill that has been passed in Sacramento. This bill, if it becomes law, may bring some radical changes for the betterment of our city government. The new city council has had no opportunity to express itself upon the matter. It is known, however, that the city council that went out of office four years ago felt the need and strongly urged centralization of executive authority as one of Santa Ana's principal governmental needs.

If signed, the measure will not become effective before the first of August. There is ample time for the new council to give the situation its attention and to consider what steps are advisable under the provisions of the act.

ANTIQUITY IS OUTDONE

We all thought the archeologists were getting back pretty far when they dug up King Tut and his funeral riches. The University of Pennsylvania diggers at Ur, Abraham's old home in Mesopotamia, report new discoveries rivaling those of Tutankhamen in artistic merit and craftsmanship, and 2000 years older.

Records are found of kings formerly thought to be legendary and mythical, proving once more that there is likely to be something substantial at the bottom of any legend. In strata underneath those are found graves containing "clay tablets inscribed with a semi-pictographic script and seals bearing the names of kings unrecorded in any history."

Their date is fixed at about 5000 B. C., which is rather close to Adam, if the ordinary Hebrew chronology is accepted. Will the spectacle diggers yet find kings before Adam? That would be perplexing to many.

ALL MEN ARE SELF-MADE

Dr. Edward A. Fitzpatrick, dean of the graduate school of Marquette university, took occasion to remark the other day that all men—even college graduates—are "self-made men."

"Education can in the last analysis be only a process of self-development, where a man is master of his fate, and the artist creating his own life out of the raw materials of his experience," he says.

That's a point worth stressing. In school or out of it, every man is constantly meeting new experiences, each one of which has a certain effect on him. His reaction to these experiences determines what he will be. He is, after all, arbiter of his own destiny, to that extent at any rate.

We are, as Dr. Fitzpatrick says, all self-made men.

WE ARE USED TO MIRACLES

We are used to miracles, in these days, and we hardly pay any attention to them any more.

Perfection of the television apparatus, by which a man speaking over the telephone can see the face of the man at the other end of the line, in a distant city, is one of the most amazing things that modern science has done.

But we're used to it. It fails to excite us. In a few years' time the device may be in general use; if it is, probably we will take it as a matter of course, and cuss the phone company if the pictures we see are the least bit blurred.

Science has made us just a bit hard-boiled.

NO EXCUSE FOR ROAD HOGS

The regrettable accident that befell Henry Ford—if it really was, as police now seem to believe, an accident—serves as one more reminder of the menace represented by what is commonly called the "road hog."

The flash of temper that makes a driver swerve in front of the man who resisted his effort to pass him is a trait to which no motorist should ever give way.

It may give you a feeling of satisfaction to "cut in" sharply; but it may also cause a death. There is no excuse for it—ever.

PRANKS OF DESTINY

Destiny plays queer pranks, sometimes.

On the campus of Oberlin college, in Ohio, stands a memorial arch, dedicated to the memory of the many Oberlin graduates who were killed in the Boxer rebellion in China. Probably no other American college contributed more names to the list of those who were killed in that outbreak.

A year ago Oberlin gave its highest honor—the LL.D. degree—to a Chinese who had graduated from Oberlin a score of years before—Hsiang Hsi K'ung, a direct descendant of the philosopher Confucius. Now Hsiang Hsi K'ung has been appointed minister of finance and industry for all China; Americans in the far east, it is said, look on him as the coming "strong man" of the orient.

A queer prank of destiny, surely. Oberlin, that saw her sons and daughters killed by the Chinese, repays by training one of China's sons, so that he may help to bring China order and peace and prosperity.

Strong As a Candidate

—Pasadena Star-News

One guess is as good as another on the political enigma of the hour. Is Mr. Coolidge to be a candidate for renomination and re-election? "They say" he is. But the only man who has authority to say whether he will or not, is not saying. Therein lies the enigma.

From present appearances, Mr. Coolidge will be a candidate. But present appearances may prove to be unfaithful prophecies. Announcement will be made in midsummer, say Washington reports. Meantime it is sure that a number of Republican leaders, who favor another term for Mr. Coolidge, are scouring the country, taking soundings of public sentiment. Results of these inquiries unquestionably will get back to Mr. Coolidge. And his course doubtless will be influenced measurably by the reaction toward his candidacy which these investigations will bring forth.

Mr. Coolidge retains a great measure of the popularity and public confidence which swept him into office by the greatest popular majority ever given a candidate for the Presidency. This, despite the fact that his veto of the farm-relief bill caused considerable dissatisfaction among the farmers. It should be noted, however, that another farm-relief measure is being drafted, with objectionable features eliminated. This will have Mr. Coolidge's sanction. Prompt passage, therefore, of an acceptable relief measure for the benefit of farmers, when Congress convenes in December, would have the effect of counteracting much of the criticism and antagonism in the granger states.

Mr. Coolidge's administration has been marked by the greatest reduction in federal taxes ever made, in like period, in the history of the Nation. There has been unbroken prosperity. Confidence and good cheer prevail among the people. There are strong indications that prosperity will continue. This is what the country needs—an era of political quietude, with stress upon economic development and wiping out of the national debt, with reduction of taxes. The record which Mr. Coolidge has made in the White House is such as to appeal very strongly to the people.

Why Should Anyone Not Vote?

—Fresno Republican

We wish it would be possible to take, without offense and without too much probing into personal privacy, the reasons why men and women, registered to vote, do not vote today.

We can foretell, as a result of experience, that anywhere from 35 to 65 per cent of the registered citizenry will not vote.

Why not? We could well suppose that just the "thrill" of taking part in an election would get out a big share of those who do not vote.

Isn't there something strange about a public life that does not "interest" men and women enough to have a choice about public alternatives?

Isn't there a very great opportunity for service, on the part of those who happen to be interested, to create this interest in our neighbor?

This necktie salesman in St. Louis is up to his old tricks again. Yesterday the writer received in the mail three of the most hideous knit neckties that ever were manufactured. One was purple and red, one green and yellow, and the other black with white dots. "Pawnee Bill" had sent them, kindly giving permission to mail them back to him if not wanted. This scheme of flooding the mails with unneeded neckties ought to be squelched by the post office department. Pawnee Bill has no more legal right to send his gay, unsought neckwear to the public than Sears Roebuck would have to ship a bed room set or a cook stove to persons who have not ordered them.—Redlands Facts.

Earl Carroll was sent to penitentiary because he swore falsely. It is not an uncommon offense, and it is frequently difficult to prove. But when it can be proved there is nothing for the courts to do but to impose an exemplary penalty. All our processes of justice, indeed the very fabric of our social order, depend on maintaining the sanctity of the lawful oath. If Carroll's punishment has any public value it rests on keeping in mind that he was sent to prison for perjury.—San Francisco Chronicle.

PRESENCE OF VITAMIN E IN FOOD WILL PREVENT ANEMIA

Only recently has it been definitely established that vitamin E, first described by Evans and Bishop of the University of California as a vitamin charged primarily with sterility and the failure of the young to develop in the mother's body, is probably also definitely associated with the manner in which iron is used by the body in the prevention of anemia.

This vitamin is present particularly in wheat germ, in liver and in kidney. When it is absent from the diet of a prospective mother, at least so far as has been shown by experiment on animals, the growing young fail to assimilate iron, develop what is known as an iron crisis and die before birth.

Fortunately this vitamin is present in considerable amounts in all ordinary human diets so that the condition is not likely to affect human beings.

Recent investigators in Boston showed that the disease, pernicious anemia, could be controlled to a large extent by the eating of liver and kidneys. It was thought that one of the reasons for this control was the presence of large amounts of iron in these tissues.

The newer investigations incline to the belief that it is not only the presence of iron that brings about this result, but also the presence of vitamin E, which seems to be charged particularly with the manner in which iron is taken up by the body.

Wit and Wisdom

Nothing circulates so quickly as a secret. Carelessly dropped secrets do not always fall flat. Women's clothes were never funnier—if brevity is the soul of wit.

Of two evils, the small boy always chooses the one that makes the more noise.

There doesn't seem to be much trouble meeting expenses—one meets them everywhere.

Many girls are not so young as they make out, but still more are not so young as they make up.

When a girl casts her bread upon the waters, she expects it to come back in the shape of wedding-cake.

If a small boy refuses a second piece of cake, it's a sign that there's something wrong with him—or the cake.

"OZYMANDIAS OF EGYPT"

I met a traveler from an antique land
Who said: Two vast and trunkless legs of stone
Stand in the desert. Near them, on the sand,
Half sunk, a shattered visage lies, whose frown
And wrinkled lip and sneer of cold command
Tell that its sculptor well those passions read
Which yet survive, stamped on these lifeless things,
The hand that mocked them and the heart that fed;
And on the pedestal these words appear:
"My name is Ozymandias, king of kings;
Look on my works, ye Mighty, and despair!"
Nothing beside remains. Round the decay
Of that colossal wreck, boundless and bare,
The lone and level sands stretch far away.

—Percy Bysshe Shelley.

SCOFFLAW'S REWARD

"My goodness," remarked the old man to the lad with a fine string of trout. "You've had a successful day, young man. Where did you catch all those fish?"

"Just walk down that path marked 'Private,'" directed the boy, "cross the field where the sign says 'Beware of the Bull,' and keep right on until you come to a notice 'Trespassers will be prosecuted.' A few yards farther on there's a pool with a sign saying 'No fishing allowed'—and there you are, sir!"—Sporting and Dramatic Tarns.

HOME COOKING

A young wife tried her hand one day at Scotch shortbread. She was so well pleased with her success that she spread a piece of shortbread with apple butter and gave it to a boy who was rolling the tennis court.

The boy returned in a few minutes and said: "Much obliged for the apple butter, ma'am. Here's your piece of board back."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

My mother aint in and I dont think my father feels like giving me any jest now, I sed, and they sed, 'Well go on in and see, he cant do any more than so no, go on in and see.'

Its no fun finding one like that either, bleeve me, pop sed, And he put his foot back in his slipper and wigged it around and then took it out and started to scrape some more, me saying, 'Did you know there was a Kut Up Comedy around at the Little Grand, pop?'

Meaning the one he was still scraping off, and I sed, 'Puds and Glasses are going to see it.'

J. M. Cain, real estate operator and member of the Santa Ana school board, and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Beard, of Ohio, were instantly killed when Cain's automobile crashed into a Pacific Electric car at the McFadden street crossing.

The semi-monthly meeting of the booster body of the Santa Ana chamber of commerce met with P. H. Casper, G. E. Shattuck, Fred Rafferty, W. A. Zimmerman and A. H. Lyon present. J. S. Brooks was initiated.

Fred Green, 836 Parton street, was appointed district manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company for Ventura county. Figures indicated that Santa Ana's building record for 1913 probably would outdo the record for 1912 by $150,000 to $200,000.

The Triangle league banner was won by Roosevelt school in a track meet held in Lincoln park. The scores were Roosevelt, 85; Lincoln, 75; McKinley, 62; Spurgeon, 35; and Jefferson, 2. ## Struggle of Albanians and Slavs Rough terrain, primitive peoples and a turbulent history, according to a bulletin from Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic society, mark the eastern and northern borders of Albania, where the interests of Italy and Yugoslavia clashed recently and for a time threw the chancelleries of Europe into fear of another Balkan war.

Jagged mountains, deep river gorges, rocks and roadless country have helped to keep the Albanians, especially those of the north, in a primitive state of culture, says the bulletin. Such barriers have also helped to keep back the enemies of these wild highlanders and have fortified in them their almost fanatical love of independence.

HATE THE SLAVS

Before the Christian era, the ancestors of the present Albanians occupied practically the whole of the peninsula north of Greece to the Danube. They are, in fact, the remnants of the oldest race in eastern Europe. The conquest and policing of the region by Rome did not displace these early inhabitants; but when the Slavs burst southward into the peninsula in the seventh century A. D., only those who lived in or fled to Albania kept their blood and customs unaltered by the newcomers. The Albanians therefore have a hereditary enmity toward the Slavs, represented today by the new Yugoslav state.

It has been the fate of the Albanians to struggle constantly against some powerful neighbor. First it was imperial Rome, next the Slavs, then Turkey. When Turkish power waned, Albania found Austria coveting her lands. Just before the World War Austria had succeeded in placing a German prince on the throne of the newly created Albanian state; but this arrangement did not last long. Since the World War Albania has found herself between two forces. On the east and north Yugoslavia has advanced her frontiers to Albania and eyes her territory with interest; on the west, Italy, separated only by the narrowest part of the Adriatic, has shown a desire to control Albania.

OPEN THE BORDER

The eastern frontier of Albania, where Italy had charged, the Yugoslavs have been making preparations of a supposedly military character, is much less isolated today than before the World War. Then the religion had just been liberated from Turkey and had been little developed. Monastir, second among the cities of Turkish Macedonia, had rail connections only southward to Saloniki, the metropolis. Now a line also extends northward connecting with the trunk railway into old Serbia.

The region about the two large lakes, Ohrida and Persha, midway of the present Albanian-Yugoslav line, was also isolated. Now a new railway from Uskub and the heart of Yugoslavia beyond, reached down to the city of Ohrida on the lake. This lake country of the Yugoslavian borderland has both geographic and historic interest. The claim has been put forth for Ohrida that it is "the clearest lake in the world." Fish may be plainly seen swimming about at a depth of 60 feet or more. Chestnut forests cover the slopes of the surrounding hills.

Rome's Road to the East

By the shore of Ohrida ran one of the most famous of the old Roman roads, the via Egnatia, the highway to Constantinople and the east. This road, parts of which remain today, led across Albania from the present port of Durazzo, up the River Shkumbi, and by way of Lake Ohrida, Monastir and Saloniki (then Thessalonica).

Along the eastern border of Albania Mohammedanism is strong. Monastir, Ohrida, Dibra, Ipek and Prizren the minarets of numerous mosques rise against the hills. In all these Yugoslav municipalities Albanians furnish an important element in the population.

Power Trust Denounced

—Sacramento Bee

Senator Norris of Nebraska, always careful in his statements of fact, declares the Power Trust spent more than $200,000 to prevent passage of the Swing-Johnson Boulder Canyon dam bill at the closing session of the last congress. That action he has denounced in the strongest terms. He further says that many senators were "flooded with telegrams" in efforts to influence them against the bill. It never came to a vote, but by filibustering, obstructive tactics was laid over for consideration by the new congress, which meets in December next.

The behavior of the Power Trust in this matter is particularly outrageous, because the measure in question is primarily one for necessary protection of many thousands of farmers and inhabitants of towns and cities, from destructive floods, in accordance with plans of government engineers.

The proposed dam also is required for reclamation and irrigation on a very large scale, in Arizona and Nevada, of public as well as privately owned lands; also for adequate water supply for hundreds of thousands of people in Southern California.

Development of electric energy is incidental to the main project, but yet essential to enable it to be put through by the government so as to be self-supporting without issue of bonds or taxation in any form.

And by the terms of the bill the government either may develop the power or lease the power rights to private corporations.

The bill strictly provides that no work shall be done on the project until the secretary of the interior shall have obtained contracts providing for the sale or lease of water, etc., at such rates as would repay all costs of construction of the dam and other works, with a 4 per cent added for interest on the advances made by the government as the work proceeds.

So in opposing and obstructing this splendid measure—the greatest engineering project in the world today and upon a plan never before executed or even attempted in any great government undertaking—the Power Trust has manifested a greedy, arrogant and offensive disposition which surely cannot escape public scorn, resentment and contempt.

The people want to know whether the government is to carry out its own great development project for public benefit, or whether the Power Trust is to be allowed to defeat a magnificent national undertaking in order to grab great national resources and use them for its selfish profit.

The Caged Lion

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS

I MET a small boy in the pathways of the zoo. He was carrying a great leafy branch and going somewhere very earnestly. "What are you going to do with it?" I asked. "It's for the sick monkey so he'll feel at home," he explained. "Do you think he will?" "He's bound to," I assured him and away he hurried. I think we all feel for the captive animals but when we let reason dominate we are assured that if they were very miserable they wouldn't grow fat and reproduce their kind in captivity. In fact the scientific manner in which zoos are operated now-a-days makes life safer for many a wild animal than his native haunts. Surely everything is done to recompense him for being forced to make a life sacrifice in the interest of education for humans.

BACK and forth in his cage, restlessly the lion paces.

Full of pent up passion teeming
While his tawny mate lies dreaming
Of the dense jungle dark,
Of the wind swept far off places,
Of their lair in the glen
Where the rapid river races.

Why should he, King of Beasts,
He who shook the forest roaring,
Dwell behind these iron crosses
When he longs for rocks and mosses?

There he'd hunt, fight and kill
For his cubs and mate adoring.
Here he hates helplessly,
And in frenzy claws the flooring!
